10 second pause

It's finally here,

your package has arrived.

You've been waiting for this package for days now!

You saw the commercial

& you knew you had to get your hands on it.

Especially after all the great things you've heard about the Black Spiral's face masks.

You knew the quality of their products and if they're making a new perfume you had to try it.

The models in the commercial looked so happy

& what's the word?...

Blissful as soon as they sprayed that perfume.

You'd love to try it and get to see what it smells like.

The commercial really spoke to you with how stressful life has been lately

& how you're tired of the responsibilities.

You'd much rather be as happy & blissful as the models in that commercial were as soon as they sprayed that perfume.

That name though.

Hypnotique.

Such an intriguing name.

Especially considering the rumors & stories around the company and how they use some sort of hypnosis & mind control in their products

That's been heard throughout the corners of the internet and even a bit on TV

but all the people who were bad mouthing the company and the hidden agendas

They all came out to publicly apologize & admit they were wrong.

So they must've been wrong,

but there's no smoke without fire

so could it be?

Could it be that the company used these methods on these people??

Naaaaaah

what are you talking about,

that's so silly.

Hypnosis isn't real!

Come on let's open this package

and see what's inside!

Unpacking sound effect

What a fancy looking box you think to yourself.

The black spiral logo at the bottom right and a picture of the perfume printed on the box.

You open the box to find the perfume.

Hypnotique in a bold & italic font while the words "Black Spiral" under it in its normal font.

The bottle itself is round but flat and it's molded like a spiral.

They're really not making it easy to dismiss the rumors are they you think.

But hey all publicity is good publicity as they say so maybe that's why they're leaning heavily on these rumors.

You check the box and see something else.

Something very weird & doesn't really make sense to be in a perfume box.

A flash drive.

A flash drive with the word "Hypnotique" on one side and the words "Play after spray" on the other.

You're definitely too curious to wait before checking the content of the flash drive.

So you grab your laptop & plug it in.

Once you do the flash drive opens and inside is just a video.

A video titled "Hypnotique"

you try to open the video but you're asked for a password.

Checking the box again you try to find any clue for what the password might be but you find nothing.

You find nothing except a small white sampling paper.

The one you'd find perfume salesmen & women handing out for you to smell the perfumes they're selling.

That's when the brilliant idea come to your mind!

Spray the sampling paper.

spray sound

you spray the paper & instinctively take a whiff of it.

That... That was your mistake!

The smell of the perfume enters your lungs and that's when it starts.

That's when you start feeling disoriented,

you're getting dizzy.

You can smell the perfume,

it's the smell of your favorite flower.

It smells so nice that you take another whiff without thinking,
taking a deep breath in now.

Your lungs feeling up with that smell which only causes you to feel more disoriented,
feeling dizzier & dizzier as a thick cloud engulfs your mind,
making it hard to think,
thoughts clouded
& mind feeling woozy and weak.

It's okay,
it's okay don't worry about it.

Nothing to be alarmed about.

Just enjoy how good the perfume smell.

How nice it smell

& don't worry about anything else.

Eyes fluttering as you get more & more drowsy.

As it's becoming harder & harder to think.

You take another deep breath in now,
inhale deeeeply now.

Thaaaaat's right.

Take in this wonderful smell.

This lovely smell

& feel how disorienting

& dizzy it makes you feel.

It's so hard to think right now,

no need to think,

no need of any of your pesky thoughts right now.

You just have a big smile on your face as you enjoy the perfume

& how good it's making you feel.

Just like the models happy & blissful.

Loving every moment you smell that wonderful aroma around you.

Getting lost in that bliss,

but just before you're gone completely you notice something.

You notice the perfume sampler.

You see words appearing on it.

You see the words

“Obey Black Spiral”

It hits you.

Not sure if it’s you

or something in the perfume affecting you but without thinking you enter these words as the password for the video.

Lost in the bliss & the wonderful smell of the perfume you watch as the video opens...

TV opening sound effect

As soon as it opens a green flash appears on the screen followed by a spiral.

A black & green spiral and a voice.

A new voice echoing,

echoing so deep that it penetrates all your defenses and instantly makes its way deep inside your mind.
