

NO FAULT AND “NOT KNOWING BETTER, YET!”
A HUGE KEY TO HAVING A HAPPY LIFE!

(Link to share: No Fault And “Not Knowing Better, Yet!” A Huge Key To Having A Happy Life!)

There is no reason to be at all angry or frustrated with people (especially yourself) who know no better and can thus do no better:

PREMISE: People (and circumstances) are like meteors (as are all objects), with momentum and a (most often) unconscious path that is unchangeable by you or any other person. It is best to simply dance and dodge around them (get out of their way!) - and not to allow them to impact you. We can only accept that reality that they will function that way as just “what’s so”, a given that will occur in life. And then we need never complain or fault anyone (it does no good) about behaving as meteors, just be aware and handle yourself!

There is no valid reason to ever complain or fault anyone!!!!!!

Make it an ironclad commitment to never complain or fault anyone, ever!!!!

And realize that there is no legitimate reason to fault yourself for being in a condition of “not knowing better, yet!”

IF YOU MAKE THIS COMMITMENT, THE GUARANTEE IS THAT...

If you make this as a true commitment, you are guaranteed to be rid of a major segment of your negative thoughts, beliefs, and emotions.

This will literally transform your life and dramatically lighten it up!

The other major segment is around the thoughts and beliefs we have related to fearing the future, as a threat. Get rid of the ridiculousness and non-thinkingness of these beliefs/thoughts and your fears, anxieties, and stress will virtually disappear!
