The Kastrati Family also known as Tak-Shu Imports or The Albanian-American mob or simply just the Albanian Mob, is a organized crime syndicate that has been active since the early 1920's and is still active to this day. In these recent two years they've been under new management, with Donny Pastalinii as the Don acting from the shadows, and with Terry Liangelo Hrav as the acting boss out in the streets. Over the time period of over a 100 years they've made their name infamous around certain parts of New York, New Jersey, Miami, Chicago and Philadelphia. Their organization is estimated to be around 40-50 active members, around 10 retired members and over 20 missing members. These past 3 years they've undergone a lot of power struggles with bosses ending up dead or missing. One example of this is when they hired a guy named Edward, nicknamed "Fast Eddie". Fast Eddie quickly rose through their ranks but as time went on he started to consider himself the leader. And so he took control. Unfortunately for him, he ended up missing and a year ago we found some bones in a swamp and they turned out to be him. We're suspecting that the underboss at that time had ordered the hit.

These are the believed to be heads of the family;

The Kastrati Crime Syndicate makes their money through many schemes and illegal businesses, such as extortion, gun trafficking, human trafficking, drugs and at last murder. They do try to make money legitimate ways, such as bars and stocks. But that is no excuse for their heinous crimes against this nation.

Confidential informants and surveillance has now gathered enough footage and evidence, to go to trial and convict them. And we will now show you the evidence your honor.

This first piece of video evidence shows one of their capos murdering a fellow criminal cold bloodedly... <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4MC6W98HTJA>

This film shows them performing a well organized execution of a rivaling crime organization. Not unlike the St. Valentine's day massacre organized by the infamous mobster Al Capone. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=g7vygLaOR3o&t=36s>

This is a film they sent to a rivaling criminal to intimidate him into submission, which was caught years later and turned this film to us in return for a reduced sentence. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=stE7PfaSor8>

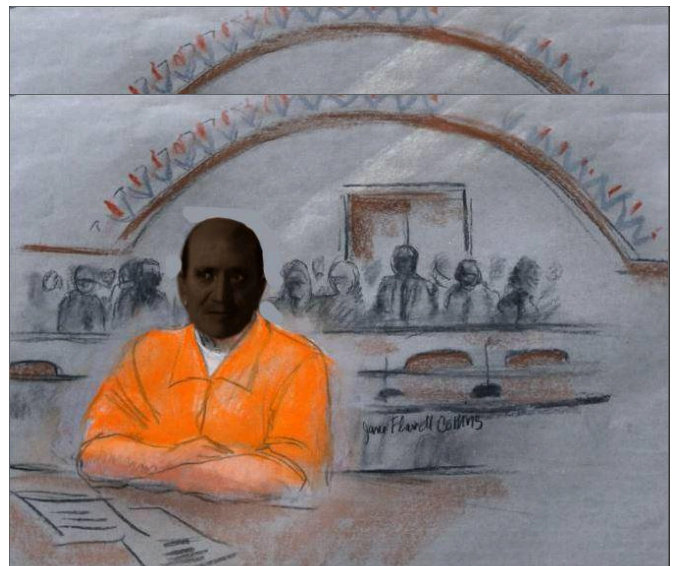

This film was captured by one of our undercover agents, it captured their initiation ceremony into their organization.

“Mr.Hrav, how do you plead?”

“Not guilty.”

Some OOC information:

How our ranks work (As a organized street crew, like a family but smaller, we don't want to classify as a family)

Boss: Basically hangs out wherever, calls the shots, comes up with money making schemes. Doesn't really gets his hands dirty.

--Top Members--: Consists of two ranks, right hand man and top wiseguy.

Right Hand man: Hangs out with the boss and advises him, brings back street news and kickup.

Top Wiseguy: A rank equal to "Caporegime" or "Captain". Controls the members and brings orders down from the Boss. Doesn't really get his hands dirty but is allowed to.

--Big Baller Wiseguys--: Consist of two ranks, Made Man and Associate.

Made man: Initiated member of the family, does the dirty work but holds a lot of respect. Considered a untouchable and are in every way considered superior to the associates.

Big Baller Associates: The most respected, top earning and considered to be the best associates. They're almost destined to become made into the family. Unless they fuck up.

--Small Time Wiseguys--: Consists of associates.

Associates: Small time associates are usually new members to the family and the least trusted ones. Does most of not all of the dirty work. Not considered untouchable but are still backed up in every argument.

What we usually do: We almost always hang out in some bar or are talking to someone, some would call it to socialize. We talk to people, government officials, police, criminals. Anyone we meet we greet friendly and pop off a chat with them. We come up with money making ideas and get our influence around town by being friendly. 90% of the rp we do is passive. And when we do get violent we usually do it because we have to. We'd rather talk things out. No one likes losing their character or get fucked around with. We are also against robbing people.

Making Money: We prefer to do rp earning, such as providing people services they need. If we do earn through violent ways we usually extort, not by violence first tho. I'll give you an example.

We see a business owner and we walk up to him and say "Alright wiseguy, so here's what's gonna happen, it would appear that you need protection, AAAAND we can provide that, and if you were to decide that you wouldn't need protection I would have to leave this room, and I can't control whether or not my friend here breaks your kneecaps"

When it comes to drugs, our lowest members does that and then they kick up to their direct superior, and then it goes up and up and up, all the way to the boss. The wealth is equally divided (Sounds like communism but it really is how the mafia works).

When it comes to actual items like guns our mid tier members handle that. They sell to people we trust and we gain a reliable customer base.

Legal ways of making money is the least best money maker but we still do it for the fun, such as bar or restaurant rp.

About us when it comes to server rules and whatnot:

I've personally been banned many times, but not since my last ban on MP which was invalid and I'll say that until the day I die. Every other ban a year before that was proven to be invalid. And I get that I stayed banned on MP, they had a TON of reports against me about anything from Hacking to Exploiting to Rdm. You name it I was accused for it. But when it comes to my members, none of them has been banned on any server this last year and a half. We do have a undeserved reputation as minges but we haven't really done anything besides fun rp. I'll link a video in a sec, so basically we're here to stay quiet and rp. We have deep ties with the known factions in the mafiarp community and we'd like to get to know more factions as Typhon Mafiarp with definitely bring many new players to this great gamemode. (Skip to 4:10 to see what our rp was. And I'll have you know that the asian accent was over a longass time ago due to people calling us minges)

Recruiting: We hire people if they ask for it, we have them do small jobs like drop this off here drop this off there, work as a bartender. As unarmed security. Then we get to know them better and we befriend them, then we start introducing them to the crime side of things. And when we feel like we can trust them we start considering a initiation. And then make them do harder things. Put them under test.

Ties and relations:

We very rarely have problems with other factions unless they actively go after us. We're friends with most known factions such as the Patriarcas, Strinati's, Clemente's, Flanagans, Lucchese's. And many others.

Initiation: Here and there we initiate members. When we fully trust them and they have proven themselves.

So

1. They prove themselves and gain our trust.
2. They arrive at the initiation and their told to drop everything they have, guns, money suits, etc.
3. We sit him down at the table while we have 1 or 2 guys behind him with guns.
4. We ask him the 10 initiation questions, previously known as the 10 questions of doom.
5. If he gets the questions right we go to the 6th stage, if not they lose their life (PK).
6. When he gets the questions right we make him stand up. And a guy will stand about 10 meters in front of him with a empty gun pointing at him. He gets his fully loaded gun and we say "In ten seconds this guy is going to empty his clip out on you. You make the call what you want to do" then we start counting down. Most often they start freaking out since we've told told that if he dies it's a PK. If he shoots the guy with the empty gun, the people behind him will shoot him on the spot, if he doesn't shoot him and he lets the guy "shoot him" he goes onto the next stage.
7. When he's passed all the tests he has to say the oath out loud. Which is "Besa e shqiptarit nuk shitet pazarit Shqiptarët vdesin dhe besen nuk e shkelin Besa e shqiptarit si purteka e arit Një besnikëri shqiptare është për familjen e tyre dhe nuk mund të bashkëpunojë kurrë me askënd jashtë klanit të tyre"

Translated to

(the honor of an Albanian can not be sold or bought in a bazaar) (Albanians would die rather than break honor) (the Albanians' honor is worth more than gold) (An Albanian's loyalty is to their family, and can not cooperate with anyone outside their clan)

8. The person has been fully initiated.
9. A party would be held for the initiated member(s).

Clothing:

The members would very often be seen in so called "Drip", or luxury clothing as the normal person would call it. Brand belts such as Gucci, Ferragamo, Hermes, Louis Vuitton. Same goes for their clothing but that's more on the "custom" side. Nevertheless they stand
