Pharmacy Topic of the Week: COVID-19 Booster Shot

- ❖ COVID-19 booster shot is an additional dose of a vaccine given after the protection provided by the original shot has begun to decrease
- ❖ The FDA has approved the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 booster and is readily available for certain individuals
- ❖ A third dose of the mRNA COVID-19 vaccine is identical to the first two doses; it is used to help protect people with very weak immune systems
- ❖ According to the CDC, Americans receiving their third dose of the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine experienced relatively the same adverse effects after the second dose (this research was done on individuals with compromised immune systems)
- ❖ For those individuals with Moderna and J&J vaccination, they would likely need a booster shot as well but more data on the effectiveness and safety are yet to come
