

INTRODUCING JOSH LEVIN

CLASSROOM
CHAMPIONS[®]
how better gets better and better

Josh Levin is a professional sport climber and American Ninja Warrior athlete from Sunnyvale, California. Josh started climbing at just four years old and today is recognized as one of Climbing USA's most decorated youth competitors with nineteen national titles, five continental championships, multiple US speed climbing records, and the bronze medal at the 2008 Youth World Championships.

In 2016, Josh began competing on the NBC TV show American Ninja Warrior, earning the title of rookie of the year in 2016.

In addition to his competitive career, Josh has completed a degree in mechanical engineering at Northeastern University and spends much of his time giving back to his community, organizing trail clean ups and youth climbing trips and has served as the athlete representative to the USA Climbing Board of Directors.

Performance Stats:

Climbing -

19x National Champion

5x Youth Pan Am Champion

World Cup finalist

American Ninja Warrior -

Rookie of the Year - Season 8

USA vs. The World - Champion - Season 4

FUN FACTS!

In his spare time, Josh enjoys reading the Harry Potter series as many times as possible. He was also a principal design lead for the Northeastern Hyperloop Team and has interned both at Apple and at the NASA Jet Propulsion Laboratory as a member of the Mars 2020 Rover group. Josh has traveled to over thirty countries competing for the U.S. National Climbing Team and is also a 2nd degree black belt in Tae Kwon Do

