Sound elements

The mixing of sound elements below creates an audio setting that supports the action and engages the spectators.

1. Speech
2. Sound effects
3. Music

SPEECH

Dialogue,

Voice over.

_____

SPEECH

Speech is one of the most important tools for understanding the story of the film.

Dialogue: Conversation between characters in movie.

Voice over: The voice of an unseen narrator speaking.

Sound effects

Ambience (backgrounds);

Hard or "cut" effects.

Sound effects

Ambience

Audio refers to the background noise present at a given scene or a location.

Sound effects

Hard or "cut" effects

Almost every sound we hear at the movies that isn't dialogue or music is a sound effect.

Train sliding door open and close, foot steps, train moving on tracks, ambience in train etc.
