DSpace 5 & 6 “end of life” in 2023

DSpace 5.x support will end on Jan 1, 2023

DSpace 6.x support will end on July 1, 2023

Why?

- 5.x was released in 2015. 6.x was released in 2016.
- Both platforms have become difficult to support/maintain - many underlying libraries are “end of life”, and cannot be upgraded safely.
- Concerns that future security vulnerabilities may not be fixable.

Questions? Visit Support for DSpace 5 and 6 is ending in 2023

We recommend all institutions upgrade to DSpace 7 as soon as possible.

Working Group's primary recommendations for DSpace's governance groups to consider:

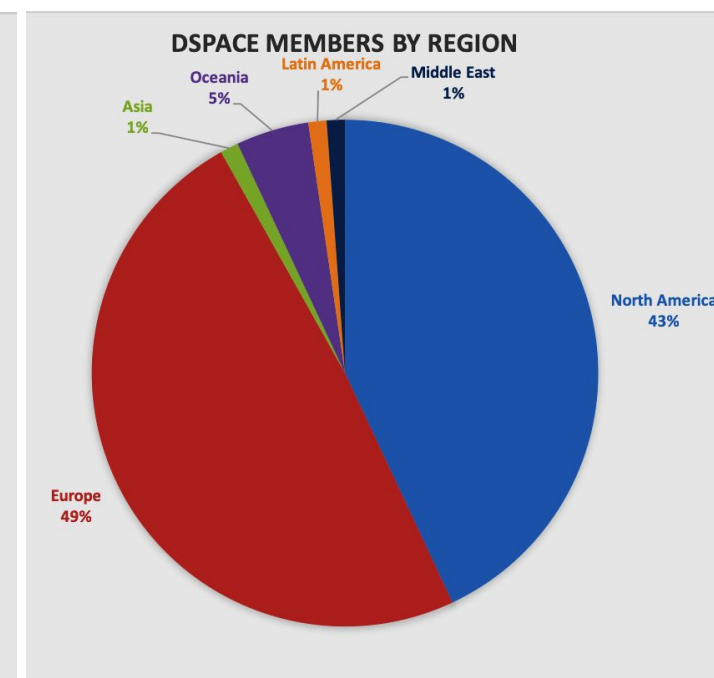

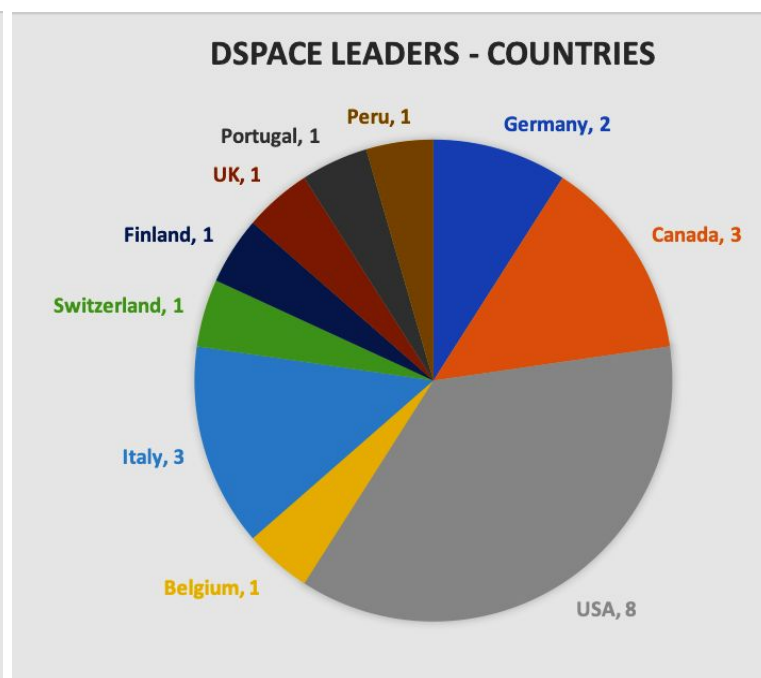

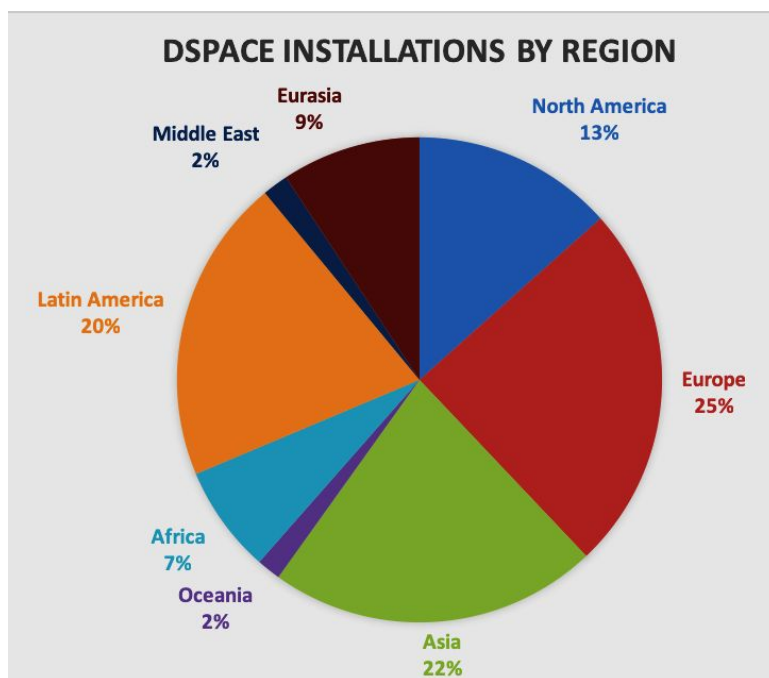

1. Modularize the DSpace architecture
2. Empower users
3. Explicitly conform to selected standards and international initiatives

It is Our Responsibility

Open Source is not free, it is a collective responsibility

We need to adopt global standards for exchange, share and access information globally

We need to think about the big picture, the ecosystem we're serving, and build an Open Ecosystem

A Repository is a strategic tool that supports the institutional mission of an organization

A repository is not a static archive but a dynamic "data agorà"

We need to globally support interoperability to allow data flow
