

Outer presence
mood bored

BY HENRY WALTON

What does he want

- AJ wants to be feared, he knows he is not as strong as 'Blister' and is not the leader of the group. Still he knows that he is tougher than 'Blister' and more rough around the edges. Overall he still wants for people to be intimidated by him.
 - He will do this by standing close to people with the look of pure hate in his eyes and doesn't really show a smile or sympathy towards anyone.
-

Costume

My costume portrays my characters life style. Therefore in the play my costume will be stereotypically scruffy and not at all expensive. It's all to be in very dark tones and be quite intimidating if seen on the street. That he lives in these clothes, they are going to be a track suit. The ones I wear during the performance would also have a hole in them to just add that this is quite a scruffy person.

