Before you Learn Self-Check

I can I can annotate my reading and analyze the Characters in My Antonia to help determine a theme of a novel and apply it to my own life.

- I can do this with a lot of help.
- I can do this with some help.
- I can do this alone.
- I can teach others how to do this.

1 - Begin your Journey

1. Use a video or do a live class lecture to remind students how to annotate.
2. Use the guidelines as you begin annotating.
3. You may either use the pdf version of the book, or use post-it notes for your annotating.

2 - Follow the Path

Teacher Instruction Video

- 1, Read the assigned chapter each day. (Schedule)
2. Using the guidelines, annotate reading that shows analysis of characters. The annotations will help students to create their final project.
3. Show your annotation to Mrs. Brown each day.
4. There will be at least one quiz each week. Some weeks will have two.

3 - Share your Experience

As you finish the novel, you have some choices to show what you have learned through your analysis:

1. Character scrapbook that really shows the character through pictures, quotations, memories. This can be done as a tangible scrapbook or on Google slides.
