

Q: Chris 範文 Q8

Which of the following values is the most important to teach a young child 5-10 years old?

(1) being helpful (2) being honest (3) being well-organized

Topic Sentence Level 2 : Topic Sentence

Tyler

---

- Which of the following values is the most important to teach a young child 5-10 years old? (1) being helpful (2) being honest (3) being well-organized
- being well-organized (money/learn efficiently/safety)
- Last but not least, it is important for a young generation to know how to learn things efficiently, and if children are well-organized, they can learn language in an efficiently way. (1)For instance, after my cousin, Tom, went to an English class, (2)his teacher told tim how to improve listening in only one month. (2)The teacher asked Tom to watch a video everyday, and then echo with speakers of the same video again with subtitles. (2)Since then, Tom has created a habit to practice listening and followed his teacher's guide. (2)After a few months, because he learns really fast, (3)he has better understood what Youtubers try to say in episodes now.
- word bank: well-organized: set strict rules/ organized rule

Topic Sentence Level 2 : Topic Sentence Tyler(修訂版)

---

- Which of the following values is the most important to teach a young child 5-10 years old? (1) being helpful (2) being honest (3) being well-organized
- being well-organized (money/learn efficiently/safety)
- Last but not least, it is important for a young generation to know how to learn efficiently, and if children are well-organized, they can learn language in an efficiently way. (1)For instance, after my cousin, Tom, went to an English class, (2)his teacher told tim how to improve listening in only one month by setting organized rules. (2)At the beginning, he both listened and read subtitles of a video. Then, he turned off subtitles and focused on listening. (2)Since then, Tom has created a habit to practice listening and followed his teacher's guide. (2)After a few months, he has better understood what Youtubers try to say in episodes now.
- word bank: well-organized: set strict rules/ organized rule

Topic Sentence Level 2 : Topic Sentence

wen

---

- Which of the following values is the most important to teach a young child 5-10 years old? (1) being helpful (2) being honest (3) being well-organized
- being helpful ( problem-solving ability/personalities / self-interest )
- First of all, it is important for a young child to develop problem-solving ability, and being helpful can help he or she developing this ability.
- Secondly, 5-10-year-old children have their own personalities, but teaching them to be well-organized would harm their personalities.
- Last but not least, if young children learn to be honest, it is easy for them to hurt people's feeling; therefore, being honest is not that important value to teach them.

Topic Sentence Level 2 : Topic Sentence

wen

---

- Which of the following values is the most important to teach a young child 5-10 years old? (1) being helpful (2) being honest (3) being well-organized
- being helpful ( problem-solving ability/personalities / self-interest )
- Last but not least, if young people learn to be honest, it is easy for them to hurt people's feeling; therefore, being honest is not that important value to learn. For example, my 7-year-old brother, Andy, has been taught being honest since he can talk. One day, when he called my aunt fat in front of many relatives at a dinner time, my aunt cried out loud because my brother's words broke her heart and she felt embarrassed. Moreover, my aunt even ran out of the house after she cried leading to the fact that my relatives had to stop dinner time to find her. Apparently, being honest is not an essential value for children to learn.

Q: Chris 範文 Q9

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? It is easier to become educated today than it was in the past.

Topic Sentence Level 4 :

Tyler

---

- Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? It is easier to become educated today than it was in the past.
- agree (money/university numbers/technologies)
- Secondly, people can acquire knowledge more easily in modern times because there are more universities than before. For instance, there are over one hundred universities in Taiwan now. In other words, students in Taiwan can go to an university however their grades are. Furthermore, they can learn critical thinking and special skills in college. Therefore, people become knowledgeable because they have better degrees. On the other hand, when my parents were high school students, there were only 20 universities in Taiwan. That is to say, they had to work very hard so that they could go to a college. Apparently, many elderly could not elaborate logically since they only have junior high school or elementary school degrees.

Topic Sentence Level 4 :

YA

---

- Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? It is easier to become educated today than it was in the past.
- Agree (more information/ advanced transportation/ more schools)

主題句

- First of all, in order to get educated, people need to learn more knowledge, and people nowadays are easier to access information than before.
- Second, to become educated, people usually need to find good teachers, and people in the modern time have advanced transportation to do so.
- Lastly, universal education requires schools, and nowadays schools are established more than they were in the past.

YA

- First of all, in order to get educated, people need to learn more knowledge, and people nowadays are easier to access information than before.
1. Take myself as an example. When I want to learn how to raise a cat, I am able to use Internet to get abundant knowledge.
  2. To elaborate, I learn from videos on YouTube what kind of canned food is the best for my cat, like tuna with chicken broth. Furthermore, if I need to find why my keep scratching destructively on my yoga mat, I can join a certain cat group on Facebook to find the answer quickly from other cat owners.
  3. Therefore, I become a master at cat breeding through getting knowledge online easily.
  4. On the other hand, people lived in previous days without Internet.
  5. For instance, my grandma raised a dog, but she did not know how to give it right meals because less access to gain canine knowledge. Unfortunately, my grandma fed the dog with tomatoes and chocolate which dogs are actually vulnerable.
  6. Before long, the dog got sick and passed away due to the deficiency in available information in the past days.

Wordbank: online information/ YouTube, Facebook group/ online language classes on AT knowledge- pet breeding/ canned food with hydration and nutrition/ chicken broth and carrots

YA

- Second, to become educated, people usually need to find good teachers, and people in the modern time have advanced transportation to do so.
-
1. Take my friend, Emma, as an example.
  2. Three years ago, Emma wanted to learn how to make French desserts. In order to find a French baker, she just took an airplane to France within two days and joined a local bakery school.
  3. By doing so, she had learned much from a baker, Paul, about making Macaron and Canele.
  4. On the other hand, if Emma had lived in a century ago,
  5. there would had been no full-fledged airplane transportation for people to travel. Furthermore, there was little resource in Taiwan for Emma to learn French baking because international interactions were not common either at that time.
  6. As a result, Emma could not have education she wanted due to undeveloped public transportation.

YA

- Lastly, education requires schools, and nowadays schools are more than in the past.
-
- 1. For instance, in the current society of Taiwan, there has been as much as 150 colleges around the island. In other words, everyone is allowed to get educated in various subjects for academic or practical purposes.

Topic Sentence Level 4 :

Tyler (modified)

---

- Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? It is easier to become educated today than it was in the past.
- agree (money/university numbers/technologies)
- Secondly, people can acquire knowledge more easily in modern times because there are more schools than before. For instance, there are over ten thousands educational institutions in Taiwan now. In other words, students in Taiwan can have education without competition. Furthermore, they can learn math, second language, cooking, and even professional skills in schools. Therefore, people become knowledgeable because they have better degrees. On the other hand, when my parents were high school students, there were only one thousand places for basic education in Taiwan. That is to say, they had to work very hard so that they could go to a school. Apparently, many elderly the elderly/elderly people were not literate since they ~~do~~ did not receive education at all.
- Word Bank: advanced technology, iPad, well-shown in the video, tech device, heavy back of residues, absorb knowledge

Q: Chris 範文 10

When people make donations, they tend to give away their money to charities and let them decide how to use the money. However, some people think they should assign the money to fulfill specific purposes they want. Which do you prefer and why?

Topic Sentence Level 4 :

Tyler

---

- When people make donations, they tend to give away their money to charities and let them decide how to use the money. However, some people think they should assign the money to fulfill specific purposes they want. Which do you prefer and why?

charities ( professional/efficiency/avoid fraud)

- Secondly, if people want to donate their money, they should avoid fraud, but assigning the money by themselves allows them to be cheated. (1)For instance, I used to donate 100 NT dollars on the Internet for students in rural areas. (2)However, a scandal that CEO of the platform used its all money to gamble last year really shocked me. (2)Furthermore, media reported that they never used their money on poor children they once promised to help. (2)I could not believe that I gave 10,000 NT dollars to a liar for a long time . (3)Since then, I has not given my money to private platform anymore. (3)Instead, I believe that good charities can make a better decision than I do.

Q: Chris 範文 11

Some people think the media are less concerned with the accuracy of news, thinking the information from the media is becoming more and more incorrect. Do you agree or disagree with this opinion and why?

Topic Sentence Level 1 :

Tyler

---

- Some people think the media are less concerned with the accuracy of news, thinking the information from the media is becoming more and more incorrect. Do you agree or disagree with this opinion and why?
- Agree (get publicity/ earn money/ efficiency)
- First of all, many people want to get publicity through media nowadays, and spreading attracting but incorrect information allows them to become popular.
- Secondly, media care about efficiency, but creating 100% correct news is time-consuming.
- Last but not least, media aim for earning money, and advertising products without confirming the source of information lets companies make a fortune.

Topic Sentence Level 4 : 隱含今昔對比 ?

Tyler

---

- Some people think the media are less concerned with the accuracy of news, thinking the information from the media is becoming more and more incorrect. Do you agree or disagree with this opinion and why?
- Agree (get publicity/ earn money/ efficiency)
- Last but not least, media aim for earning money, and advertising products without confirming the source of information lets companies make a fortune. For example, last year, a pharmacist advertised his supplement, Vitamin D, on the Internet and announced that Vitamin D can cure cancers, making 1 million NT dollars. However, although some researchers have already shown that Vitamin D has limited effect on curing cancers, he still decided to sell all products. Furthermore, since he misled patients, his company has expanded revenues more than 10 million NT dollars. As a result, many consumers spend a lot of money but gain no benefits. In contrast, in the past, any advertisement should be checked by governments for many times. Therefore, product information would be more

Q: Chris 範文 12

It is long argued that people should use cleaner energy to protect the environment, but others think using the traditional energy sources such as coal and oil is less expensive. what is your suggestion?

Topic Sentence Level 1 :

wen

---

- It is long argued that people should use cleaner energy to protect the environment, but others think using the traditional energy sources such as coal and oil is less expensive. what is your suggestion?
- cleaner energy ( health/ the long-term development/ )
- First of all

Topic Sentence Level 1 : 這題審題有目的嗎？

Tyler

---

- It is long argued that people should use cleaner energy to protect the environment, but others think using the traditional energy sources such as coal and oil is less expensive. what is your suggestion?
- cleaner energy (good for health/ sources of energy/ beautiful buildings )
- First of all, people should care about whether the process of making energy makes people unhealthy, and cleaner energy does not harm people's health.
- Secondly, citizens should worry that sources of energy will be used up, but coal is limited resources.
- Last but not least, civilians care about beauty of a country, and buildings used for cleaner energy look more beautiful than traditional factories.

Topic Sentence Level 1 :

Tyler

---

- It is long argued that people should use cleaner energy to protect the environment, but others think using the traditional energy sources such as coal and oil is less expensive. what is your suggestion?
- cleaner energy (good for health/ sources of energy/ beautiful buildings )
- Last but not least, civilians care about beauty of a country, and buildings used for cleaner energy look more beautiful than traditional factories. (1)For instance, Sun-Moon lake water plant is a spectacular historic site of plants for making electricity by water. (2)Since the architecture was built on a natural lake, designers used grey and green colors with modern materials, so the building looks hidden in a spontaneous way. (2)Furthermore, it has become one of the greatest spots for traveling since five years ago. (3)As a result, people enjoy taking photos in front of the water plants nearby the lake. (4+5)On the other hand, a traditional energy factory, which makes electricity by fire, was built in suburban as if it is a abandoned village. (5)There are so many chimneys and

Q: Chris 範文 13

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? People who cannot accept criticism will not succeed in a team.

Topic Sentence Level 2 : Tyler

---

- Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? People who cannot accept criticism will not succeed in a team.
- agree (teamwork/ persuasive /solve problems )
- First of all, to be succeed in a team, people have to solve problems, and accepting criticism allows them to do so.
- Secondly, good teamwork is a successful characteristic in an organization, and if people can accept criticism, they can have better teamwork with others.
- Last but not least, persuasive people easily succeed in a group, and if people can reflect themselves from critics, they become more persuasive.

Topic Sentence Level 2 : wen

---

- Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? People who cannot accept criticism will not succeed in a team.
- agree (teamwork/ perspectives / positive effect)
- First of all, if people want to succeed in a team, they need to learn collaborate with other people, and accepting criticism can help them develop teamwork skills.
- Secondly, to be successful in a team, people need to cultivate various perspectives, and the acceptance of criticism can help them achieve this goal.
- Last but not least, to succeed in a team, it is important for people to have a good influence on other people, accepting criticism can help them do so.

Topic Sentence Level 2 : Tyler

---

- Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? People who cannot accept criticism will not succeed in a team.
- agree (teamwork/ persuasive /solve problems )
- Last but not least, persuasive people easily succeed in a group, and if people can reflect themselves from critics, they become more persuasive. (1)For instance, my manager, Tom, is an open-minded supervisor who can accept our aggressive suggestion. (1)After we complained that he should not shout at us during the meeting and not curse employees in the office, he reflected within a month and changed a lot. (2)He did not get angry in the company anymore and has been willing to listen to others' opinions. (2)We are so surprised that we met such a good supervisor like him. (3)As a result, no matter what he wants us to do, we all listens to Tom wholeheartedly.

Q: Chris 範文 14

Agree/ Disagree: Some college and university professors do not allow students to use devices with the Internet (such as smartphones, laptops) during class. What is your opinion? Please provide reasons and explanations to support your answer

Topic Sentence Level 1 : Tyler

---

- Agree/ Disagree: Some college and university professors do not allow students to use devices with the Internet (such as smartphones, laptops) during class. What is your opinion?
- disagree (efficiency/ convenience /interaction )
- First of all, professors should care about educational efficiency in class, and allowing students to use devices with the Internet is more efficient.
- Secondly, students put emphasis on convenience of brining textbooks, and if they can use electronic devices, students can learn in a convenient way.
- Last but not least, interaction between teachers and students is important, and using new technological equipment allows them to interact more.
-

Topic Sentence Level 1 : Tyler

---

- Agree/ Disagree: Some college and university professors do not allow students to use devices with the Internet (such as smartphones, laptops) during class. What is your opinion?
- disagree (efficiency/ convenience /interaction )
- Secondly, students put emphasis on convenience of brining textbooks, and if they can not use electronic devices that can connect to the Internet , students have to bring heavy textbooks to school. For instance, when I was a freshman in university, my calculus professor asked students to only take notes by writing on papers. Since we have to record a lot of formula and solution in each question, I had to prepare hundreds of papers a week. Furthermore, those papers and textbooks were so heavy that I bought a suitcase to take them, and I always walked in campus with heavy materials. On the other hand, if I could had taken notes with devices with the Internet, such as iPad or PC, I would have only brought a small bag with a light iPad. As a result, students would appreciate for the convenient policy.

Q: Chris 範文 15

A lot of high school students now cheat in homework assignments by asking others for answers.

Which of the following do you think is the most efficient way to stop this?

(1) asking parents to help stop the students from cheating

(2) asking teachers to create homework assignment that cannot be easily cheated

(3) imposing penalty or punishment on students

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- A lot of high school students now cheat in homework assignments by asking others for answers. Which of the following do you think is the most efficient way to stop this?(1) asking parents to help stop the students from cheating(2) asking teachers to create homework assignment that cannot be easily cheated(3) imposing penalty or punishment on students
- (2) ( X spend time on homework/ family relationship / effective)
- First of all, to stop students cheating in homework, schools should increase difficulties for assignments because students are not willing to spend a lot of time on asking answers.
- Secondly, the most efficient way to stop cheating in schools is allowing students to have a good relationship with their family, but asking parents to stop cheating breaks the relationship.
- Last but not least, a good way to prevent students from asking answers should be effective for a long time, and if teachers change the styles of homeworks, they

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- A lot of high school students now cheat in homework assignments by asking others for answers. Which of the following do you think is the most efficient way to stop this?(1) asking parents to help stop the students from cheating(2) asking teachers to create homework assignment that cannot be easily cheated(3) imposing penalty or punishment on students
- (2) ( X spend time on homework/ family relationship / effective)
- First of all, to stop students cheating in homework, schools should increase difficulties for assignments by asking students to give different answers. For instance, after our English teacher, Tom, found we cheated in a multiple choices test, he asked students to play a English drama at the end of the semester. Since we chose different roles in the drama, we had to come up with our own words during play. To be more specific, I played as a prince, so I had to alterate my voice to be very confident so that audiences could easily recognize my role. As a result, we created an original and classical play based on every unique character in the

Q: Chris 範文 16

People may become homesick when they stay in a new place after a while; in your opinion, what will be the best way to ease nostalgia for the newcomers?

1. do or eat the things previously done or eaten at hometown
2. contact old friends at hometown
3. participate in special activities and have special food
4. make new friends

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- People may become homesick when they stay in a new place after a while; in your opinion, what will be the best way to ease nostalgia for the newcomers? 1. do or eat the things previously done or eaten at hometown 2. contact old friends at hometown 3. participate in special activities and have special food 4. make new friends
- (1) ( recall memories in childhood/ convenient / remember advantages of my country)
- First of all, to ease nostalgia, people have to recall memories in their childhood, and eating things previously eaten at hometown allows people to do so.
- Secondly, the best way to recall hometown should be convenient, and eating traditional food is the most convenient way to remember old things.
- Last but not least, when people aim for easing nostalgia, they should find elements of their hometown, but making new friends prevents them from finding those elements.

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- People may become homesick when they stay in a new place after a while; in your opinion, what will be the best way to ease nostalgia for the newcomers? 1. do or eat the things previously done or eaten at hometown 2. contact old friends at hometown 3. participate in special activities and have special food 4. make new friends
- (1) ( recall memories in childhood/ convenient / remember advantages of my country)
- Last but not least, when people aim for easing nostalgia, they should find elements of their hometown, but making new friends prevents them from finding those elements. For instance, after I hanged out with my new friends in California, I still missed my hometown, Taiwan. Although we had great time in pubs, I wanted to have a hot beef noodle to be relaxed in a far city from Taiwan. To be more specific, I usually felt moody if they kept sharing foreign food culture in the U.S.. Therefore, even my friends tried to take me to eat some delicious restaurants in L.A., I was still nostalgic for my country. On the other hand, after I

Q: Chris 範文 17

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? The most important goal of education is to teach people how to educate themselves.

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? The most important goal of education is to teach people how to educate themselves.
- agree ( acquire updated knowledge / help others/financially independent)
- First of all, acquiring up-to-date knowledge is important nowadays, and if people know how to educate themselves, they can learn the latest information easily.
- Secondly, helping others is an important characteristic, and teaching people how to train themselves allows them to cultivate the characteristic.
- Last but not least, ~~financial~~ economically independent is essential to students, and educating people how to teach themselves makes them earn enough money.

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? The most important goal of education is to teach people how to educate themselves.
- agree ( acquire updated knowledge / help others/financially independent)
- Secondly, helping others is an important characteristic, and teaching people how to train themselves allows them to cultivate the characteristic. For example, before I first went hiking with my friends, I learned how to cook in mountains by watching Youtube videos. As a result, I knew how to preserve our food in our backpacks with sealed plastic bags. In addition, I taught my friends how to use easy equipment and ingredients to cook a delicious dish in the high mountain, such as fried rice and vegetable ramens. Thanks to my ability to learn cooking online, I could become helpful when my friends needed me. On the other hand, if I did not know how to acquire skills by myself, I had to rely on others in the mountain. Therefore, my friends would think I am useless and never want to go out with me again.

Q: Chris 範文 18

Which one do you think is the most useful practice to improve our environment?

1. walking or bicycling to reduce driving
2. only consuming organic food to reduce pesticides
3. reusing waters

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- Which one do you think is the most useful practice to improve our environment?
1. walking or bicycling to reduce driving 2. only consuming organic food to reduce pesticides 3. reusing waters
- walking or bicycling ( health/ budget / convenient)
- First of all, to improve environment, people care about how to improve their health, and reducing driving allows people to not suffer from air pollution.
- Secondly, budget control is an important factor to improve our environment, but consuming organic food costs a lot of money.
- Last but not least, a useful practice to enhance our environment should be convenient, and walking or bicycling is the most useful way to do so.

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- Which one do you think is the most useful practice to improve our environment?
1. walking or bicycling to reduce driving 2. only consuming organic food to reduce pesticides 3. reusing waters
- walking or bicycling ( health/ budget / convenient)
- Last but not least, a useful practice to enhance our environment should be convenient, and walking or bicycling is the most useful way to do so. For instance, in the Netherland, since the government announced a policy to forbid people driving cars in downtowns, people have gone to work by cycling. Since bicycling is much cheaper than driving cars, people change easily. Moreover, it takes less time to park a bicycle than a car. As a result, the policy not only reduces the air pollution problems in cities but also makes people's lives more easily. On the other hand, if the government chose to encourage people to reuse waters at home, citizens would have to buy a lot of containers. Then, they would spend a lot of time recycling waters they have used. Therefore, it would be time-consuming that people would give up

Q: Chris 範文 19

Many changes in the primary school can provide the student with better education and social development. Which of the changes is more important for the teachers?

1. Encouraging students to ask in the class more frequently
2. Having students work together in pairs or small groups more frequently
3. Meeting each student's parents more often.

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- Many changes in the primary school can provide the student with better education and social development. Which of the changes is more important for the teachers? 1. Encouraging students to ask in the class more frequently 2. Having students work together in pairs or small groups more frequently 3. Meeting each student's parents more often.
- 2. ( efficiency / maintain relationship / critical thinking)
- First of all, it is important for teachers to educate students how to cultivate critical thinking, and having students work together allows them to do so.
- Secondly, teachers put emphasis on relationships with students, and if they ask students to discuss in small groups, they can enhance relationships between teachers and students.
- Last but not least, teachers should care about efficiency in class, but encouraging students to ask questions is not an efficient way.

Topic Sentence Level 2+3 : Tyler

---

- Many changes in the primary school can provide the student with better education and social development. Which of the changes is more important for the teachers? 1. Encouraging students to ask in the class more frequently 2. Having students work together in pairs or small groups more frequently 3. Meeting each student's parents more often.
- 2. ( efficiency / maintain relationship / critical thinking )
- First of all, it is important for teachers to educate students how to cultivate critical thinking, and having students work together allows them to do so. For instance, my teacher in junior high school asked us to give an English presentation in groups, we had to discuss and decide an interesting topic by ourselves. During the process, we learned how to present our own opinions and organized the contents we prepared to share. Therefore, our teacher were satisfied with our performance because we delivered an unique perspective on how to integrate Chinese thinking and English logic in our English speech. On the other hand, if our teacher just had met our parents more often, he could not let

Q: 機經題想點

Q: 2020 0718

Some people prefer to spend time with people their age. Others like to spend time with people of different ages. Which do you prefer and why?

Topic Sentence Level 1 : Tyler

---

- Some people prefer to spend time with people their age. Others like to spend time with people of different ages. Which do you prefer and why?
-
- spend time with people at the same age ( convenient to hang out/ help one another/ have common topics )
- Ex1: have same compulsory classes in university
- Ex2: same teacher → ask math questions
- Ex3: Pokemon Go → have fun together Pikachu
-

Q: 2022 0306

Does a person's personality change over time?

Topic Sentence Level 1 : Tyler

---

- Does a person's personality change over time?
-
- Yes ( influenced by social media/ affected by friends/ have financial pressure)
- Ex1: impatient due to Facebook
- Ex2: learn how to be optimistic from friends ( fail in exams)
- Ex3: talkative because Tom has to make more money by selling computers.