Who was Jesse Owens?

Jesse Owens was an American track and field athlete who won four gold medals and broke two world records at the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin. Two years before, while competing for Ohio State University, he equaled one world record and broke three others before qualifying and competing in the 1936 Olympics.

For Adolf Hitler and the Nazis, the 1936 Berlin Olympic Games were expected to be a German showcase and a statement for Aryan supremacy. Hitler lambasted America for including black athletes on its Olympic list. But it was the African American participants who helped cement America's success at the Olympic Games.

In all, the United States won 11 gold medals, six of them by black athletes. Owens was easily the most dominant athlete to compete. He captured four gold medals (the 100 meter, the long jump, the 200 meter and the 400-meter relay) and broke two Olympic records along the way.
