Heavy Duty Car Dolly Rental

Today's modern towing equipment utilizes two different types of technology. The first being wheel lift, which can be used for both cars and medium or heavy duty tow. This equipment tows the car by the wheels therefore assuring damage free towing. No part of the towing apparatus contacts the car or truck's body. The other method of towing is flat bed, which is a hydraulically operated tilt bed body with a winch. Most flatbeds have the capability to tow a second car on the rear using the wheel lift technology.

Auto Tow Dolly

Will the driver, along with the tow truck, be there shortly? And if they can not make it right away are you given an estimated arrival time? Even if they can not get to you immediately, they should be honest about your waiting time. This allows you to plan for their arrival and also it can free your mind of worry if they are not there as quickly as you feel they should be. This also allows you to inform any officers that stop to ask if you need assistance that you have a tow truck on the way. ...
