

INTRODUCING

FAYE PARKER

CLASSROOM
CHAMPIONS

how better gets better and better

Faye Parker is a junior at University of Pennsylvania enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences. She plays on the basketball team and logged playing time in wins over both Siena and Stetson, getting her first career assist against the Hatters.

Faye was awarded ISL and NEPSAC honors and Joan V Roller award for dedication to team and sport in high school. She also played in the division B u20 euro championship for Great Britain. Her favorite books as a kid were the Faraway Tree series by Enid Blyton and her favorite sports team is the British football (soccer) team Manchester United, she even named her dog after one of the players.

Performance Stats:

- Awarded ISL & NEPSAC honors
- Joan V Roller award for dedication to team and sport
- Played in the division B u20 euro championship for Great Britain

FUN FACTS!

Faye has an older brother and sister who are twins and both play sports as well. She loves baking and lemon bars are her specialty. She can do a relatively believable bird call