What are OER?

- Teaching and learning materials that you may freely use and reuse at no cost
- Users have permission to engage in one or more of the 5 Rs without violating copyright

Retain

- Make and own a copy

Reuse

- Use in a wide range of ways

Revise

- Adapt, modify, and improve

Remix

- Combine two or more

Redistribute

- Share with others

Exploration into Oregon Open Learning Hub

Take 5 minutes to find the following on <https://www.oercommons.org/hubs/oregon>:

- A resource or Group to support your area of expertise/curiosity
- Comprehensive School Counseling Programs Group
- Where to find additional professional learning opportunities

When we regroup, we'll ask for volunteers to share one finding!

I can recognize Open Licensing.

Copyright and Open Licenses

Copyright: Protections afforded to the author for intellectual property that they create. Protections include the right to reproduce the content, create derivative works, perform or publicly display they work, and distribute the content, including digitally.

Open Licenses: A form of copyright that allows the author to provide permissions to other users while retaining ownership of their intellectual property.

Free vs Open Resources

Free Resources: Currently available for educators to access with no monetary cost. All rights reserved by the content creator. Permissions may be revoked in the future.

Open Resources: Clearly states permissions that allow educators to retain, reuse, revise, remix, and redistribute in perpetuity. Some licenses allow the content creator to reserve some rights.

Providing feedback on the OER Quality Framework

OER Quality Framework

The purpose of the OER Quality Framework is to describe indicators of high-quality OER for consideration in a variety of applications. It will include 3 Tools:

Submission Guidelines

Is this resource appropriate for inclusion on OER Commons?

Curation and Creation

What high-quality indicators should I be aware of when adding resources to a group on the Oregon Open Learning Hub?

Evaluation

When a resource is in a collection, how do I know it is high-quality and what does that mean?

I can access and share additional learning opportunities.

Next Steps & Support

- Access the Oregon Open User Guide or one of our recorded webinars for a quick tutorial.
  - Module 1: OER Basics
  - Module 2: Curating in a Group
- Share the Hub with the educators you work with.
- Attend an OER Workshop and invite others to attend.
