Self Help Show

Podcasts are a great way to develop traffic, impart information and build your credibility as an expert. But, like any repeating product, they are time consuming and difficult to keep producing.

Creative Business Podcasts

Not only because your motivation will ebb and flow but also because what you can say about any one subject is limited. So finding a topic to talk about for 15 minutes or so -- each and every week -- can be a daunting task.

Inspirational Motivational Speakers

It's always easier to create four or five podcasts (i.e. one hour) than it is to create a single podcast. It sounds silly but it's true. Creating one big piece is easier than many smaller pieces. And finding one idea that you can split into several is always easier than finding four or five separate ideas.

Self Motivation Podcast

Getting two hours free once a month is easier than getting thirty minutes free every week. It sounds silly but it's true. The fact that you are under pressure to meet a deadline has two opposite effects.

The Business Podcast

First it gives you the impetus to do the work -- which is good. But it also applies stress which makes it more difficult to do creative work. It's always easier to write, record and produce four podcasts in one go than it is to create four separate podcasts. So try to do your podcasts in a batch.

Ideas come to you all the time. But most of them get lost in the ether. Why? Because they aren't relevant to you at the time they occur. How often do you remember your dreams? How often have you walked from one room to another and forgotten why you came into the room?

Best Uplifting Podcasts

You wouldn't expect a radio to give their personalities an unlimited time on the radio would you? Well you don't have an unlimited time in a podcast either. When you script your podcast you only have time for a set number of points. Don't try to squeeze more points in. Better to do two podcasts than one with extra points.

Personal Development Business

No one can deliver creativity on a constant basis. Neither can anyone work all the time. You need to take a break if only to recharge your batteries. Doing batches of podcasts helps give you product to run during your break time.

Encouraging Podcasts

Podcasts are well accepted by their audience and are seen as a high value benefit. People like to listen to them. And what they hear influences their purchasing patterns as well.
