how better gets better and better

Katherine is a cross-country skier who represented Canada at the 2017 World Ski Championships where she was part of the Canadian women's historic tenth-place finish in the 4×5 kilometre relay in Lahti, Finland. In 2019, she made her second trip to the World Championships, where she chalked up a top-thirty finish in the women's 30-kilometre skate-ski mass start race. Katherine has also been a part of Canada's Junior World Championships three times and won three silver medals in individual racing at the 2015 Canada Winter Games, along with a gold in the team relay. Katherine trains out of the Nakkertok Ski Club.
