

ShareYourPaper.org for Libraries

Joe McArthur
Co-founder & Director
Open Access Button

Make your research visible and see 30% more citations

Share your paper is designed by libraries to make your paper open access, for free, wherever you publish. Legally, for free, in minutes. Join millions of researchers sharing their papers freely with colleagues and the public.

Start by entering the DOI of your paper

We'll gather information about your paper and find the easiest way to share it.

Next

Try an example 10.1126/scitranslmed.3008973 or learn more.

High deposit rate

No cost per deposit

High quality deposits

High deposit rates + high quality deposits + no
cost per deposit

=

A stronger alternative to APCs, an asset for bibliodiversity

=

A lot more Open Access, a lot less cost.

"We're excited to finally build everything we've learned from mediated deposit into a simple tool, not a dozen workarounds, that enables every library to make self-archiving not just the right thing, but the easy thing, for every author"

Leila Sterman
Scholarly Communication Librarian &
Assistant Professor

How it works

- Automated permissions
- Instant version checking
- Lots of metadata
- Careful design

Congrats from MSU Library! ➤

Leila <leila@montana.edu >

6:39 PM (0 minutes ago)

to Joseph ▾

Dear Your Name,

Congratulations, from Montana State University Library, on your publication of "Your New Article Title" in Amazing Journal Title. We value the work that you are doing!

We would like to make a copy of your paper openly available in ScholarWorks, our institutional repository. It should only take a minute, and you can do it at scholarworks.montana.edu/?submit=10.1234.345678

Please do not hesitate to contact us for clarification.

Thank you for working with us on this important project.

Best,

Leila

You can freely share your paper now!

To enable colleagues and the public to freely download and cite your paper the library has checked and '{{your journal}}' encourages you to freely share a version of '{{your article}}' [?].

✓ Find the version that was accepted. It's not a PDF from the journal site

This is the only version you're able to share legally. The accepted version, or 'post-print', is what you sent to publisher after peer-review and acceptance but before formatting. Often, it's a docx or latex export, not publisher proofs.

✓ Check there isn't publisher logos or formatting

It's normal to share accepted versions as the research is the same, and we'll link to the final published pdf for those who can pay for it. It's fine to make small edits to formatting, remove comments, arrange figures etc.

We'll check the version, then preserve, and promote your work.

Select, or drag and drop a file

By uploading you're agreeing to the terms and conditions and to license your work CC-BY on Zenodo and ScholarWorks [?].

Upload

[\[?\] Unsure? Get Help.](#)

Congrats! Your paper will be available to everyone, forever.

You'll soon find it in ScholarWorks, on Google Scholar, Web of Science, and popular tools like Unpaywall. You can put the link on your website, CV, any profiles, and ResearchGate.

Your paper is now freely available at this link:

<https://doi.org/10.23456/2345678>

Check back soon to see your paper in ScholarWorks, until then we've put it in Zenodo.

Do Another

Hmmm, something looks wrong

We just checked the paper, and it looks like it is probably a publishers PDF or final proof which the journal prohibits legally sharing in ScholarWorks. You're nearly done, we just need an earlier version to help you get the 30% citation advantage, however we'll share this version on your behalf whenever it's requested.

Try again

This is the right version

How It's Setup

- Any repository
- Your brand, your website
- Customizable
- In 30 minutes or less

You can freely share your paper now!

The library has checked and Pharmacological Research encourages you to freely share your paper so colleagues and the public can freely read and cite it. [\[1\]](#) [\[2\]](#)

✓ Find the manuscript the journal accepted. It's not a PDF from the journal site

This is the only version you're able to share legally. The accepted manuscript is the word file or Latex export you sent the publisher after peer-review and before formatting (publisher proofs).

✓ Check there aren't publisher logos or formatting

It's normal to share accepted manuscripts as the research is the same. It's fine to save your file as a pdf, make small edits to formatting, fix typos, remove comments, and arrange figures.

✓ Tell us your email

We'll only use this if something goes wrong.

We'll check it's legal, then promote, and preserve your work

 No file chosen

By uploading you're agreeing to the terms [\[1\]](#) [\[2\]](#) and to license your work cc-by-nc-nd.

Notice a change? We're testing a simpler and faster way to deposit your articles. You can give feedback or use the old way.

Let's get you set up!

Congrats, you already have Shareyourpaper.org partly set up! As you complete the steps below you'll be able to customize further and we'll show you more of what the tool can do. It requires no coding or systems expertise and doesn't take long.

At any time you can test Shareyourpaper.org, with your settings, on the left. Nothing will be uploaded, but we'll respond as if it did. It'll work just like it would on your website, although it won't be styled to fit with your brand yet.

Get Shareyourpaper.org working with your:

- Repository
- Deposit Preferences
- Open Access Policy
- Website & Brand

Once set up, it's time to:

- Pilot & Rollout
- Do outreach
- Support Shareyourpaper.org

Feedback | FAQ | Report Issue

The Roadmap

- Deposit without DOI
- New tools for permissions checking

Learn more at Shareyourpaper.org/libraries

Get updates

Shareyourpaper.org/updates

Open Access Button

We partner with libraries to build tools that advance open.

- Free
- Open Source
- Non-profit
- Community-owned

Thank you to...

ARCADIA

A charitable fund of Lisbet Rausing and Peter Baldwin