“Imagine a world in which every single human being can freely share in the sum of all knowledge.”

“Though US-based, the organization is international in its nature. Our board of trustees, staff members, and volunteers are involved without discrimination based on their religion, political beliefs, sexual preferences, nationalities, etc... Not only do we accept diversity, but we actually look forward to it”

A pair of hands is shown holding a small, light blue globe. The globe is covered in embossed text from various languages, including Latin, Greek, and Chinese. The text is arranged in a grid-like pattern across the surface of the globe. The hands are positioned to hold the globe gently, with the fingers visible on the sides. The background is dark and out of focus.

Thank you
