

Welcome to RotomAmiti's Cameo Pokémon Card Database!

What is this?	This sheet is a listing of every time a Pokémon appears on a card that does not have its name. Well-known examples include the Natu on Legendary Treasures Bouffalant or the Weedle on Base Set Scoop Up.		Every officially-printed, standard-sized card that includes a Pokémon not in the card's name is eligible for the list. There are many cases where the Pokémon is not physically present, such as a toy or silhouette; these are included for the sake of completion.
What is this for?	The sheet is intended to help collectors of specific Pokémon species locate cards where their target is not the cards' main focus.	What is included on this list?	This list focuses on English releases, and with some exceptions, every English release of any particular card is included. Unique releases in other languages are also included, once.
How do I use this database?	This sheet's tabs are organized into each Generation of Pokémon. Go to the tab corresponding to the Pokémon you're looking for. For example, if you want cards with Wingull, go to Gen 3. Regional forms are included with the Generation of their region. Cards displayed in Italics indicate that the Pokémon is an edge case. The Pokémon may not be entirely in frame, or may be represented by a toy or costume. The Notes column will indicate what is specifically going on. Cards displayed with a light blue background indicate the card was never released in English. If the card was not released in Japanese either, then the language it is available in will be indicated in the Notes column. Card names that are in merged cells indicate that the set numbers all correspond to the same artwork.		The sheet is currently up-to-date with all English releases up to and including Surging Sparks, and all Japanese releases up to and including Supercharged Breaker.
		What is not included on this list?	By and large, "symbiotic" Pokémon are not included. Drakloak cards are not listed as appearances by Dreepy because every Drakloak includes a Dreepy anyway. Several Item cards, despite not being Pokémon, still have the name of the Pokémon in the artwork. These include Clefairy Doll, Rotom Dex, and various Spirit Links. These aren't included for obvious reasons. Jumbo-only cards are not included, as many feature incredibly large amounts of cameo Pokémon, and they don't have the same appeal to most collectors. I may go back and add these at a later point. Pokémon that only appear on stamps, such as the Pikachu from the English 25th Anniversary Promos, are not included. The nature of stamps mean that some prints of these cards may not include them, and they aren't part of the card's artwork regardless.
Last Updated:	October 18, 2024		Cards such as Pikachu & Zekrom-GX don't count as a listing for Zekrom just because its name is second.
Sources:	https://pkmncards.com/	https://bulbapedia.bulbagarden.net	A single copy of J Balvin V, which features Charizard, is known to exist. Until it or the mockups of Katy Perry V or Post Malone V make their way onto the market, they will not be on the list.
	https://pokumon.com/	https://www.justinbasil.com/	Due to redundancy, Trainer Kit and McDonald's Collection reprints are excluded.
	Specific shoutouts: u/PandaPyre		I'm sure there's tons of cards missing! Message me on Reddit or Twitter @RotomAmiti to let me know what I need to add.
