Putting the traveler at the center, allows border guards to make decisions based on the complete traveler profile. Crucial to this is the use of biometric technology, which can accurately identify an individual in mere seconds, guaranteeing a high level of security without increasing processing time. With IDEMA's automated border security solutions, border guards can focus on preventing illegitimate border crossings. They can also help border travelers who may need assistance to complete the necessary identity checks. |                                                                                                                                                                                                       | IDEMA Identity & Security Usa LLC, IDEMA National Security Solutions LLC, MorphoTrust Usa, Inc., Trans Digital Technology Limited Liability Company |                                                                                                        | DHS, DOI, DCS, DOD                  | https://www.usaspending.gov/search?input=1&amp;output=100&amp;recrank=1&amp;term=IDEMA%20NATIONAL%20SECURITY%20SOLUTIONS%20LLC&amp;title=&amp;fromsearchresults=true | https://www.fedproc.gov/procurementData/procurementData.do?procurementDataAction=SEARCH&amp;procurementDataCriteria=IDEMA%20NATIONAL%20SECURITY%20SOLUTIONS%20LLC | https://www.fedproc.gov/procurementData/procurementData.do?procurementDataAction=SEARCH&amp;procurementDataCriteria=IDEMA%20NATIONAL%20SECURITY%20SOLUTIONS%20LLC | https://www.fedproc.gov/procurementData/procurementData.do?procurementDataAction=SEARCH&amp;procurementDataCriteria=IDEMA%20NATIONAL%20SECURITY%20SOLUTIONS%20LLC | https://www.fedproc.gov/procurementData/procurementData.do?procurementDataAction=SEARCH&amp;procurementDataCriteria=IDEMA%20NATIONAL%20SECURITY%20SOLUTIONS%20LLC |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |

The sensor and cluster nodes incorporate a suite of sensors to detect intrusions by people or vehicles as well as integrated GPS to locate intrusions. When the system is triggered, the detection is recorded, the User interface is updated. The system is also capable of triggering external and third party hardware like cameras, and other higher power systems.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Products include: STRAT Sensor Network, Covert user panels, Eyes-on, in trigger module                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                  | DHS, DOI                           | https://www.usaspending.gov/search/award/1048599997/1048599997 | https://www.usaspending.gov/search/award/1048599997/1048599997 | https://www.williamsr.com                                 | https://www.williamsr.com                                 | https://www.williamsr.com                                 | https://www.williamsr.com                                 | https://www.williamsr.com                     |                                                                                       |

What is this data?

The U.S. Border-Homeland Security Technology Dataset is an attempt to document the large spectrum of companies that provide technology related products and services to agencies involved in border security, homeland security, immigration or policing in border regions in the United States. By including different datasets, it allows researchers to view the industry through multiple layers. This spreadsheet includes several different sub-datasets to help understand the industry:

1. Vendor Profiles

This is a hand-curated dataset of 230+ companies that includes categories of products, corporate profiles, affiliated companies, and other analysis, such as whether the company markets AI or has attended a recent Border Security Expo. Whenever possible, we verified each vendor's status as a DHS contractor using both the USASpending.gov database and the Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS.gov) and included links to both. For vendors operating under the contract of a parent company or partnership, we sought additional information for verification. This information includes links to press releases, marketing materials, news articles, business publications, social media, defense and border industry trade publications, and government documents. For vendors who are not yet DHS contract holders, we included documentation of their efforts to market goods and services to DHS, CBP, and ICE. This dataset may grow over time as resources allow. An enhanced version of this data is available for researchers and journalists on request.

2. HSTech Consortium Members

This dataset includes the list of members of the Homeland Security Technology Consortium, as listed on the official website (<https://hstech.ati.org/current-members/>) on July 2, 2024, plus companies that according to the Federal Register were added in 2023, but have not yet been added to the website. This consortium was established by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security in 2015 and is administered by Advanced Technology International. The consortium was formerly known as the Border Security Technology Consortium.

3. CBP-ICE Industry Day Attendees 2018-2024

This data was derived from five "Industry Day" attendee lists published by Customs and Border Protection and Immigration and Customs Enforcement on Sam.gov between 2018 and 2023. Note: Some entities may have changed names or been acquired by other companies since attending the industry days.

4. Top 100 DHS Contractors 2006-2023

This data was compiled from historical contracting data published by the U.S. General Services Administration on Sam.gov. It includes both tech and non-tech companies. Note: Some entities may have changed names or been acquired by other companies as the years progressed.

Who built this data set?

Andrew Zuker, a student at the University of Nevada, Reno Reynolds School for Journalism and an intern at the Electronic Frontier Foundation (EFF), and EFF Director of Investigations Dave Maass were the primary authors of this dataset. They were assisted by EFF Special Advisor Paul Tepper, EFF Senior Policy Analyst Matthew Guargilia, and EFF Senior Investigative Researcher Beryl Lipton, with additional contributions from University of Arizona Researcher Dugan Meyer. The project was made possible with internship funding from the Heinrich Böll Foundation.

How comprehensive and accurate is this dataset?

Tracking this industry is hampered by multiple challenges. Mergers and acquisitions are constantly affecting the industry, while the nature of subcontracting can obscure the ultimate source of a product or service. This space is filled with "solutions" companies that do not create products themselves, but rather assemble subcontractors and sub-subcontractors to match the requirements of a government solicitation. The language of the industry is filled with vagaries and buzzwords, sometimes making it difficult to ascertain exactly what products or services are being offered, or what a company's role is in the procurement cycle. Because a comprehensive dataset would be a moving target, if not impossible, we compiled a series of datasets to provide multiple layers with which to analyze and understand the homeland security technology landscape.

Vendor Profile Field Descriptions:

Categories of Products/Services Field

This field contains brief terms describing a company's products and services as related to homeland security or immigration. This field may not be exhaustive, as many companies offer a wide variety of technologies. Some companies are vast government contractors that provide an immeasurable variety of products and services (and may in fact acquire capabilities they did not previously offer in order to obtain a government contract). We have chosen the term "Wide-Ranging Defense, Surveillance, and IT Products/Services" to describe these companies' offerings.

Corporate Summaries Field

This field includes a brief summary of the company's offerings or homeland security-specific products derived from the company's website or promotional materials.

Official DHS Program Field

If a company is involved in a "program of record" or program with a similarly official classification, we have added the title of the program.

AI/ML in Marketing Field

This field indicates that the company has used "artificial intelligence," "machine learning," or "autonomous system" as a term in its public-facing marketing materials. These terms can mean many different things, and so our evaluation only covers whether they are using these buzzwords in their product offerings, not an analysis of the individual products.
