MLKL Rules

INITIAL DRAFT

- 1) The initial draft is a 41 round live draft. Rounds 1 through 40 are for players; Round 41 is for stadiums.
- 2) Only those players who were issued SOM cards this year (2008 for 2007 season) and appear on TSN"s website are eligible for the initial draft.
- 3) The initial draft is serpentine; all subsequent Free Agent drafts are non-serpentine. Draft picks are tradeable.

PROSPECT DRAFTS

- 1) There are two prospect drafts each year.
- 2) The first yearly prospect draft (Rounds 1 & 2) is comprised of two rounds to be held after each year's Spring Free Agent draft.
- 3) The second yearly prospect draft (Rounds 3 & 4) is comprised of two rounds to be held immediately after each year's Supplemental Free Agent draft.
- 4) Only players without MLB regular season experience (prior to the MLB season currently being played) and signed by a MLB team prior to the current season's MLB draft are eligible for any prospect draft.
- 5) The initial prospect draft is serpentine. Draft order for this initial Prospect draft will be the reverse of the draft order for the Initial Free Agent draft. All draft orders will now be determined using the combined records of the two previous seasons played in order from fewest wins to most wins. Tie breakers will be determined based on run differential with the team with the worst run differential winning the tie breaker.
- 6) Owners lose rights to all prospects that they release. Released prospects are eligible to be drafted as either a) Free Agents if they have MLB experience prior to current MLB season, or b) prospects if they have no MLB experience prior to the current MLB season.
- 7) There will not be assigned times unless draft starts to slow down, at that point we'll go with assigned time slots for any remaining rounds.
- 8) Individual owners are responsible for their own prospect research.

SUPPLEMENTAL FREE AGENT DRAFTS

- 1) A Supplemental Free Agent draft of up to three rounds will be held between seasons 1 and 2 of each calender year.
- 2) All owners must announce their roster drops (up to three) prior to the Supplemental draft.
- 3) Owners may draft no more than three players. Owners are not required to draft any players during the Supplemental draft.
- 4) Supplemental Free Agent drafts are non-sepentine. All draft orders will now be determined using the combined records of the two previous seasons played in order from fewest wins to most wins. Tie breakers will be determined based on run differential with the team with the worst run differential winning the tie breaker.
- 5) There will not be assigned times unless draft starts to slow down, at that point we'll go with assigned time slots for any remaining rounds.
- 6) The Supplemental Free Agent draft is only three rounds. Owners with fewer than 40 players on their active rosters may use the Supplemental Free Agent Draft to get back to a 40 man roster, provided this can be achieved within three rounds. There will never be more than 36 picks made in the Supplemental draft.
- 7) Any player with Major League Baseball regular season experience in any year prior to the current MLB season and who is not currently on a roster is eligible for the Supplemental Draft.
- 8) Owners can have more than three supplemental picks in a draft, but they lose the rights to all remaining picks after they have made their three selections. Any remaining supplemental picks are voided unless they are traded prior to their original owner making his third supplemental draft selection regardless of round.

ANNUAL SPRING FREE AGENT DRAFTS

- 1) A non-serpentine free agent draft of at least 10 and up to 15 rounds will be held each year shortly after TSN/SOM cards are released. All draft orders will now be determined using the combined records of the two previous seasons played in order from fewest wins to most wins. Tie breakers will be determined based on run differential with the team with the worst run differential winning the tie breaker.
- 2) All owners must drop enough players to bring their rosters to a maximum of 30 players, allowing for 10 draft picks. Owners can drop below 30 players but must not have fewer than 25 prior to the draft.
- 3) Player drops must be announced prior to the beginning of the Spring Free Agent draft.
- 4) All owners must have full 40-man rosters upon completion of the annual Spring Free Agent draft.
- 5) There will not be assigned times unless draft starts to slow down, at that point we'll go with assigned time slots for any remaining rounds.
- 6) Any player that has Major League baseball regular season experience in any year prior to the current MLB season and is not currently on a roster is eligible for the Annual Spring Free Agent draft.
- 7) In the event a manager cannot field a full roster of 40 players after 15 rounds, a supplemental round will be held after Round 15. Owners with fewer than 40 players after 15 rounds will use this supplemental round to fill their roster. Draft order for the supplemental round is the same as in prior rounds. Supplemental picks in this round cannot be traded.

GENERAL

- 1) There will be two seasons played each year; Season 1 will begin after the Annual Spring Free Agent draft; Season 2 will begin following the supplemental draft.
- 2) Divisional assignments will change each season. The format is this: a) initial divisional assignments follow the general format: 1-4-7-10 East, 2-5-8-11 Central and 3-6-9-12 West. B) subsequent assignments will place assigned teams in descending order of record to the three divisions with the best team being placed first in the East and the worst team being placed last in the West.
- 3) The prior year's combined two-season records will determine the divisional assignments for Season 1 of each new year.
- 4) Divisional assignments for Season 2 each year will be determined by the final win/loss records of season 1.
- 5) All transactions must be posted on the individual chat league thread.
- 6) The league Commish shall maintain a record of all drafts, transactions and player movements and provide a copy to any owner on request.
- 7) All ties regarding divisional assignments will be broken by the previous season's head-to-head win-loss records, with the loser winning the tie. Subsequently, the team with the worse run differential wins the tie.
- 8) You cannot trade draft choices that you do not own. This means that if you trade a 9th round draft pick, you must release as many players as necessary to insure that you will have a 9th round pick. For example, you have a 40-man roster, and you have acquired extra 2nd, 3rd and 6th round draft picks during the year. You have also traded away a 7th and 9th round draft picks. This means you must release at least 12 players prior to the draft to ensure that you will have a 9th round pick. If you plan to continue drafting beyond Round 9, you will have to release an additional player for each subsequent round. You cannot drop more than 15 players.
- 9) All rule changes must pass by a super majority of eight or more owners.
- 10) There are no specific rules against "roster dumping." Owners no longer in a pennant race may use their best judgement in determining the makeup of their teams, provided that all general roster-size limits are met. However, it is expected that all owners will act in the best interests of the game.
- 11) All leagues will be set up using the DH.
- 12) All draft picks must be made within 48 hours of the final scheduled pick in the draft. That is, anyone who has been skipped or must repick for any reason will have 48 hours to do so after the final pick of the final round has been made. After 48 hours, any unmade or invalid picks will be forfeited.

STADIUMS

- 1) Each player will draft a stadium during Round 41 of the Initial Free Agent draft.
- 2) Stadium draft order will be the reverse of Round 1 of the Initial Free Agent draft.
- 4) Players may trade stadiums with other players at any time other than while a regular season is in progress.
- 5) Replacement owners will be allowed a one-time option to change stadiums upon joining the league

6) In the event that an MLB stadium is, for any reason, retired from use, that stadium's owner will be allowed to switch to a new stadium not currently in use.

7) Beginning in 2014, during the drop period preceding the Spring Free Agent Draft, all owners who have not selected a new ballpark in the preceding three years, will be allowed to select one that is not taken already. Trading for a ballpark during the previous three years does not preclude any owner from selecting a new one. All owners who wish to retain their ballparks may do so, and they are free to choose a new one during a future drop period. All stadium acquisitions will be recorded in the league spreadsheets by the sitting commissioner. Stadium drafting will be ordered using the same ordering system in place for the Spring Free Agent Draft.

ROSTERS

- 1) Each team must carry no more than 40 players on its 40-man roster. In the event a transaction sends an owner's roster above the 40-man limit, that owner is allowed one day to release as many players as necessary to get back to the 40-man limit. If an unbalanced trade results in a roster with fewer than 40 players, an owner may bring his roster back to 40 in only two ways: 1) promote an existing prospect to the main roster, or 2) acquire an extra player in an unbalanced trade. There is no adding of free agents at any time other than during the Annual Spring Free Agent & Supplemental drafts.
- 2) Each team must carry a 26-man league roster during each season.
- 3) Each team will carry a 14-man minor league roster during each season.
- 4) Each team may add an additional two players (for a maximum of 28 players) to their online game roster once game 132 has been played.
- 5) There are no limits to transactions between an owner's major and minor league rosters beyond those limits internal to the SOM game engine.
- 6) Injured players can be kept on a team's major league roster for the duration of their injury. Players promoted to the major league roster as injury replacements must be returned to the minor league roster once the DL stint has ended. There is a six game (two day) grace period to return injury replacement players to the minor league roster; this allows each owner to maintain a 26-man roster at all times. We will be using the honor system here; please don't keep players beyond their authorized time!
- 7) Each team is set up with a $200 million dollar roster; all roster transactions will use the 5% Free Agent penalty.
- 8) The minimum roster size is 30 players. The only exceptions are during the Supplemental and Annual Spring Free Agent draft periods.
- 9) All teams must meet SOM online game roster requirements at all times.

PROSPECTS

- 1) The maximum number of prospects allowed on each roster is ten.
- 2) Prospects are not counted as part of the 40-man roster as long as they maintain their prospect status.
- 3) Owners control the rights to their prospects for two years. At the end of two years (from the year and season of the draft), a prospect must either be promoted to the MLB roster or released. A prospect drafted in the Spring must be promoted by the Spring draft two years later, and a prospect drafted in the Summer must be promoted by the Summer draft two years later.
- 4) Prospects can be traded, but the original two-year timeline remains in effect for each prospect. Prospects moving from one team to another must be promoted or released when the original two-year cycle has been achieved.
- 5) Prospects may be promoted to the major league roster at any time, provided there is roster space available. Once promoted, all prospects lose their prospect status for that manager and cannot be demoted back to prospect status by that same manager.
- 6) If a prospect is released and has no MLB experience, that prospect can be drafted by anyone in a prospect draft.

PLAYER MOVEMENT

- 1) Trading players is authorized and encouraged. The trading of draft picks is also authorized. Unbalanced trades are authorized provided that the 40-man roster limit is maintained at all times; in the event of an unbalanced trade, the owner of the team whose roster exceeds the 40-man limit is allowed one day to a release player(s) to get back to the 40-man limit.
- 2) Owners with a full 40-man roster cannot promote a prospect until there is room available to do so.
- 3) Regular players on the 40-man roster cannot be released in order to promote a prospect while a season is in progress.
- 4) Regular players can be released from the 40-man roster only for the following reasons: a) pre-draft release prior to the Annual Spring Free Agent draft; b) pre-draft release prior to the Supplemental free agent draft; c) to bring a roster down to the 40-man limit as a result of an unbalanced transaction.
