Make a copy of this sheet for your personal use

Alternative non-sheets calculators exist, see:			Scores alternate forms?
Pokemon DB	Website	Just scores one Pokémon	No
CharlieRose	Website	Shows all potential scores and evolutions	Yes
CalcyIV	Phone App	I have no personal experience with this	Unknown
Doduno	Discord Bot	Offers same functionality as this sheet	No

These alternatives can only score one Pokémon at a time
Compared to this spreadsheet where you can bulk enter and have everything listed out!

Using the sheet is quite simple!
Enter your info in the blue cells:

Species	Amaura
Height (m)	Amaura
Weight (kg)	1.10
IV ATK	17.07
IV DEF	12
IV STA	13
	10
Height Group [3]	—

See resulting scores in the yellow

Score MIN	416
Score AVG	418
Score MAX	420

Some cells have Notes (↴) with more information. Let me know if you have any Questions! [1]

Q: Why a range of scores?

The Height/Weight values you see are rounded (± 0.005), so the precise score varies slightly.

Q: What makes typed showcase different?

Currently, very little! They use the same scores as single-species showcases. [2]

Q: What about Mega/Primal Pokémon?

They don't score any differently vs their non-Mega form.

Q: What about Smallest Showcases?

They don't exist at all (yet), this sheet is for only Biggest.

[1] Hi! You'll see these scattered around the sheet for explaining things that would otherwise take up too much space.

[2] Their old behavior (before September 2024) was to use an 'absolute baseline' scoring system, where everybody is treated as one species, making larger species score better.

You can see my series of reddit posts on this subject for more information: https://www.reddit.com/r/TheSilphRoad/comments/1f30kwb/how_the_allice_showcases_work/

If you want to access an old version of this sheet which has built-in support for old typed showcases and manually setting a baseline, see <https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1j8DUSo-IXVHrkFLCyoDArpCTeTv4NrxxkYKmScuOKAM/>

[3] Height Group is the little badge next to a pokemon's height when you catch it, that says "XXS", "XS", nothing (which I call "—"), "XL", or "XXL".

The sheet can automatically determine the appropriate group most of the time, but sometimes needs help. This isn't present in this sample output, but you'll see it in the Calculator sheets!

[4] ~ 2023-07-23 — Created this sheet

~ 2023-11-01 — Added XXL bonus points to calculations

~ 2024-01-12 — Added support for multi-species showcases. See notes in Data as I keep it updated with new baselines.

~ 2024-04-17 — Added Evolution Calculator sheet for predicting sizes after evolution

~ 2024-04-20 — Updated evolution math (it's now non-random and useful!)

~ 2024-08-02 — Completely rebuilt sheets, added new Info page, renamed "X-Status" to "Height Group", turned Evolution Calculator from a one-off into a full spreadsheet, removed the non-smart calculation.

~ 2024-09-29 — Added support for the "Regional Baseline Bug", so scoring variants like Galarian Weezing will now show scores as they appear in-game.

~ 2024-10-21 — Reworked sheet to remove typed (just score as normal), added custom Pumpkaboo Evolution Calculator:tm:

[5] Only necessary if Height Group is ambiguous (??? in Column J)

[6] If value is "???", please enter the height group into the dropdown in Column J

[7] Interestingly enough, Scatterbug is the only species with an "XXS-Class" different from every other species. But I just ignore it for now.

[8] These guys follow their own rules, but scoring should work - they need their own evolution calculator though!

[9] 20, 950 (but too OP)

[10] These species are missing from the game files, but have their sizes copied from Bulbapedia.

XX-Class is set to 1.55 for the time being.

Hisuian Avalugg is a special case where their XX-Class is just missing from the game
