Little known history of N1YZ's HF Net Listing:

In 2004 the bank where I worked was sold. For four months we (in IT) had to sit on our hands until the conversion process was ready to proceed. I used this time to teach myself HTML, and hand coded my first web page in HTML 3. I created a spreadsheet listing about one dozen amateur radio nets that I tried to check in on a routine basis. This net list was just for private use and the web page had very little exposure on the internet. Originally the list only contained nets that were personally verified on HF. Adding URLs came later. The URLs allowed another way to "verify" a net, but as most of us know, not everything we read on the internet is true. :) Years later more hams sent me emails requesting new nets be added, or correcting some of the entries that were no longer accurate. After a number of years this list became the top hit in a GOOGLE search, which shocked me! My old web page was becoming obsolete and it was impossible to convert HTML 3 to HTML5 so the decision was made to let the web page go dark. However, I had to find another way to propagate this list. The GOOGLE DOCs solution, using SHEETS was suggested and it has become the solution to keeping this list available to the amateur radio community. I am grateful to have the opportunity to serve the amateur radio community in this fashion. I hope to work you on the bands. 73, N1YZ.

N1YZ's Weather Data

After 10 years of sending zero MADIS ID data I'm attempting to connect to CWOP again...
