Samantha "The Whizz" Kissinger is an ex-gang member, now accountant for the law office of Pearson, Pearson, and Appleson, a corporate domineering force in the field of law. How she got there? Well, buckle up, because she's actually got a pretty short story.

Growing up in New York is hard, especially when you're a Finnish immigrant, and an orphan. Of course, her real name isn't Samantha Kissinger, it's Lilja Ruha, and that's what the gangs of New York know her best as. Fresh off the boat, Lilja was taken into foster care, forced away from her parents at 6 years old, and put into a dormitory, where she shared a space with other kids, who needed to be fostered.

Eventually, she and the others broke out, and made a gang. It lasted quite a few years, but eventually, it grew too large, and changed her friends and herself to be unidentifiable, and grew too unsustainable.

Once the writing was on the wall, and the gang was going down, Sam decided to go to community college on the down low. Created a new life for herself- as Samantha Kissinger. A foster child, under fake foster parents.

Samantha is a quiet, no-nonsense woman. She was scouted at a Business Bowl- a college tournament between multiple representatives from different schools, all competing in different categories related to finances, business, and law- where she excelled in her categories, and joined Pearson, Pearson, and Appleson no questions asked, as a lead accountant. She lives her life in solitude, afraid of getting close to somebody else again, and more importantly, afraid of chasing that adrenaline high again- of Samantha is a no-nonsense, straightforward, monotonic woman. Talking to her might feel like talking to a brick wall, which especially doesn't help that she does it on purpose. She puts up a cold, stoic front, in order to remain professional and ensure that she doesn't get too close with her coworkers. Of course, this is also because she has no idea how to talk to people- when she was a gang leader, she ruled her cell with an iron, calculating fist, since she thought that was the best way to lead her crew. She spent her entire life either being a snot-nosed asshole of a kid, or a ruthless gang leader who was willing to do whatever it took for her and her own, so she doesn't Samantha's goal is... Well, to live, really. She just goes day to day surviving, aimlessly. She's got a cat named Pistachio in her apartment, and a ferret named Whiskers, but she's wandering aimlessly through life, like a weed. She think's it's better that way, so she doesn't get too riled up and lose control, like in the past. A few years of mellowing out have given her a hint of introspection, and she's realized that she's... Kind of afraid of who she used to be. She can't reconcile with her old identity, with Lilja, and she think'e it's bottor that way.

When the cards are down, her strongest trait is either her dark determination, or her incredible calculating mind. She's smart and got good wits about her- it's how her and the Condiment Crew survived for so long, in the Bronx. When she left, faking her death in a brawl with the Swingers, the crew collapsed without her around to keep it going. She's perfectly planned her future, and she's content with staying the way. Of course, if push comes to shove, she's willing to do whatever it takes. She doesn't get reckless or crazy, she doesn't have a deep, unending well of courage within her, and she'll gladly retreat if it means living for another day, but she's protty much always got a plan or two in the tank.

Sam's deepest flaw is Lilja. She's scared of getting too worked up- she stays calm at all times, and tries to keep a rational mind, but when push comes to shove, if she gets excited in a bar brawl, she'll let her mask slip, and that's what she's scared of the most; of admitting that she hasn't changed, she hasn't grown up, and she's going to become the same person who loved and, most importantly, lost.

Her biggest hinderance to living like a weed, is that she'll grow attached to somebody, and lose them. She's afraid of loss more than anything, which Nobody. So instead, this section will be dedicated to the Condiment Crew.

Lilja and her gaggle of dormmates all broke out of the dorms and ran away for good at around 15. From there, they became the Condiment Crewthat's what they were called in the foster center, because they couldn't speak english very well, and only knew how to ask for condiments, so in a dramatic twist of irony, that's the name they adopted. For a few years, they ran around the Bronx, picking up kids from similarly pretty diverse backgrounds, as it became a space for people who couldn't quite fit in with New York's America. Over time, though, it changed for the worse- it turned from a gang of friends who all worked at McDonald's under fake identities, hacked by their resident hacker Yesenia Alvarez, assisted by Lilja with the paperwork, to a roaming, massive gang that tore a war path through New York.
Little by little, as their numbers grew, the gang couldn't make enough to feed and house them all and their new recruits, so they slowly started toeing the line of morality. They feuded with a rival gang, the North Side Swingers, or the NSS (ignore any references to the South Side Swingers, did Not mean to make that a dog whistle), and frequently clashed with them, taking over their properties in order to find roofs to sleep under. They committed minor offenses to get food and water, eventually getting fired from McDonalds, and as the numbers got bigger, they all gradually changed.
Lilja loved every second of it, don't misconstrue this as a story where she's not to blame. She was good at getting into fights, and gradually into learning tax, social security, and financial fraud- and picking up a few major felonies like Grand Theft Auto and Bank Robberies as well. She was the brains of the operation, and the gang ran smoothly because of her. They were her family, her boys, and they depended on her- how could she ever give that up? And the truth of the matter was she enjoyed what she did. She was good at it, and always felt like a huge idiot whenever her "boys" made fun of her being interested in business level calculus and science, so she gave up that previous interest in favor of fitting. A little too much.
After a huge battle with the NSS one year, she lost one of the original condiments in her crew. Upset at her crews lack of reaction, any sadness and familial bond they once had replaced with deep, burning, unstatiable anger towards NSS in the name of rivalry. Hashin Ali, the name of the victim, was just another number to her original family, and that made her upset enough to leave, and watch the fallout from afar. She took progressively further steps, looking back in horror at what she'd done; and how she'd enjoy the adrenaline rush of some of the high stakes fighting and robberies. She knew she had to leave that life, and Lilja behind, so she left it behind. She still misses her family, though, but she can't risk going back to how she was. Not now, not ever, and especially not to gain somebody just to lose them.
Hobbies (what do they like to do?)
Samantha is obsessed with her cat and her ferret. She frequently stops in pet stores to go look at kittens. She also likes drawing, designing her own tattoo sleeves and dragon tattoo on her back. Of course, she'll never show them to anybody.
Quirk (how do they type?)
"welcome to Pearson, Pearson, and Appleson, if this isn't an audit you can fuck right off."
Roleplay Scribble (what do they RP like?)
Leader (wheel de they lead the 2)	Leitmotifs (a musical theme or two, if you wish?)
Looks (what do they look like?)  I'll make a sprite sooner or later, but it's important to know that she has a	[theme 1?]
huge dragon tattoo on her back, and tattoo sleeves, so she's always seen wearing modest clothing, or non-translucent clothes, so she doesn't show them. She also puts on foundation to cover up her brand of sacrifice tattoo on her shoulder, and some of her deeper cuts.
SM Notes (is there anything you want the SM to know?)	[theme 2?]
One common set of notes people want SMs to know is lines & veils, which are topics that you as a person out of character don't want brought up in the session (lines) or just skipped over (veils). No, you don't have to explain why, though the reasons can be as mundane as disinterest. For example, someone with an aversion to needles can put that as a line.
When you're ready, wipe this section clean and put in what notes you
(honus caction, use as you wish!)	[theme 3?]
(bonus section, use as you wish!)	[triefine 3?]

If you want to further flesh out your character or add more notes, here's some ideas for bonus sections:
Knives (something about your character that might be turned against them, or used to raise the stakes.)
Spoons (little trivia about them that didn't fit anywhere else.)
Influences (what sort of media does your character relate to? Specifically media, like books, videogames, etc)
Patterns (Sburb players are by definition weird. Any weird events that keep recurring in their lives?)
Solutions (how do they go about solving a problem?)
(bonus section, use as you wish!)	[theme 4?]
	511 503

Customization

In this tab, you can input your own strife specibi, psionic powers, and Steps for the sheet to automate for you.

Alternately, you can use this to grab single subpowers or reskin weapons. For example, if you have Psionic Gift: Left Hand Rule, you can copy over just Lift and Impact.

If you need more, you can unhide them as you need them

- [1] Dream Moon, Classpect, and Land sections should remain empty for the time being. You'll learn these as the session unfolds!
- [2] This column doesn't change with the type of specibus or power, you'll have to change this on your own. The base damage dice of an abilitech or subpower will be listed in the Description column at the bottom, much like you can see with Swordkind here.
- [3] For your first level, you take the maximum than the average!
- [4] If you pick Expertise as a Stage (gained at levels 3, 9, and 15), you can check off one skill and gain a bonus to it!
- [5] The number of skill points you can have in a skill is capped by the higher of either your Proficiency or your stat.
- [6] Being proficient in a resistance lets you add your Proficiency bonus to it.
- [7] Go to Format at the top of the menu, then click Theme. This will bring up the Themes menu, where you can customize the colors and font of your character sheet.

You may need to refresh the sheet for any changes to the text color to work.

[8] There's one bar color not affected by this, and this is the temporary HP color for your HP bar in the Character tab. This one is blue.

If you want to change this, you should go to the K10 cell in your Character tab. Somewhere in that cell you'll see 3944BC in there. That's the hex code for blue. Replace that code with the hex code of your choosing.

Make sure to leave the quotation marks around the hex code intact! Replace only those six letters/numbers.

[9] If you've read this far, you probably want to go all in on the color customization. The color for your percent HP and skill totals on your Character tab can't be changed through these colors either.

If you want to change those, select the cell in question, then go to Format at the top of the menu, then Conditional Formatting near the bottom of the list.

Click on the color scaling, and you'll be able to change the three colors that make up the gradient to whatever colors you want.

[10] Every time you level up, you gain boondollars to spend on a variety of things in the Medium. Feel free to spend it, you can always get more.

The numbers are NOT cumulative; what you see per level is what you get.

- [11] Well, what's its name?
- [12] If it has a range, or ammo, or some special notes about it, put that here.
- [13] Is it a psionic power, or some strife specibus?
- [14] Each abilitch or subpower, its name goes here.
- [15] Describe each abilitech or subpower here. Follow the same format, for which you can look up to the right, instead of going back and forth between tabs.
- [16] If you have custom steps you want to use, you can put those in here!

- [17] Each abilitch or subpower, its name goes here.
- [18] Describe each abilitech or subpower here. Follow the same format, for which you can look up to the right, instead of going back and forth between tabs.
