Brian Charette	Feedback on Leading with Music	https://leadingwithmusic.com		I'm sure you have a particular design in mind for your capitalizing conventions but I'm not sure what they are. Some words in headlines are capitalized, others that I might expect to be capitalized, aren't. Is that intentional.
Brian Charette	Feedback on Leading with Music	https://leadingwithmusic.com		Of course, as I've mentioned before, I love the whole concept of Leading with Music and its creativity. I think the whole idea is brilliant. I also like how "clean" the site looks, uncluttered and image intensive. I'm curious who your target is for the site. Can you describe that person? Male? Female? Profession? Age-range? Education? If I had a better idea of your core target, I could provide more informed feedback. But it looks great!
Laurie Sessa	Feedback on Leading with Music	https://leadingwithmusic.com	Just finished the post about the Judge -"it Ain't Alright" - Change the button that says "More Recen Article" to "Next Post" or something like that for folks like me who want to go in order	I LOVE this concept. Only read the first one and already learned something about EC.
Kelly Kienzle	Feedback on Leading with Music	https://leadingwithmusic.com	For people like me who are new to this idea, I would love a very clear set of instructions on how to use the site. And if you're looking for new artists, someone that I got into as a result of my kid's influence is Lizzo - - she has so much strength and raw emotion in her music, such as in "Good as Hell". I'm also a fan of the few songs I've heard by Duffy - - "Mercy" is awesome pumped up in the car!	I also LOVE this concept, as it is, at least for me, completely original and puts on a new lense on leadership. I can imagine this tool really opening up new ways of thinking about leadership for music fans... and opening up new ways of thinking about music for leaders. Nicely done!
