

tKettie Fic Sponsorship Sheet

These are things that, frankly, I'm going to write anyway.
Eventually. Maybe.

However, you may notice there are a lot of them. And I only have two hands.
This is your chance and way to motivate me into writing or updating a specific thing that I want to, but do not currently put at higher priority to work on immediately due to other ideas, the vibes, not feeling like enough people WANT the fic, or just being very distracted.

To Sponsor a Fic, send me a $20 Kofi with ONE title of a fic in your message.
I will change the status here to a higher priority and work on it as soon as my schedule allows.

All sponsored oneshots are guaranteed to be at least 2.5k words.
Longer fics can be sponsored twice per chapter. Additional is always appreciated but not asked for.

Reminder: COMMISSIONS and ZINES will always take first priority.

Title: Just Desserts

Curiosity killed the cat, but can it kill a fox? After a wonderful Valentines gift from Zhongli, Childe decides he wants to try leveling the playing field so the old dragon doesn't have to hold back with him. Hearing rumors about a new clinical trial in Sumeru, he procures... what appears to be a truffle. Upon consumption it's supposed to grant the vitality and vigor of a familiar if not adepti... and it works.

TLDR: Foxtaglia gets his brains fucked out.

One Sip, One Shot

Based on the Artwork by IvoryIntevvat, Diluc entertains one sip, of one drink and the notion that Kaeya knows what he wants. He does, but he does enjoy making Diluc squirm just a little bit before giving them both what they want. Light BDSM Undertones, Hair pulling, a buttplug, and generally a very horny pair of cavalrymen.

Voided Spaces

A take on what happened during Aventurine's stint in the Nihility and how he got out, including self reflection, character study, and angst.

Snippet:

"Yet despite it all, he was still the blessed one. The one that survived. The one that got away from the slaughter but not the torture, yet still he survived to see what no other would dare.

All so he could go insane and slowly lose himself, imagining a voice of someone who didn't even know his real name."

Patience Breeds Success

MPREG WARNING. Aventurine has been sleeping around with various men much to Ratio's chagrin. When he's finally approached for his turn, he questions the practice to find that Aventurine is desperately trying to get pregnant but has low compatibility with everyone so far. With a quick test, they find the two of them have higher than average chances to conceive- Ratio agreeing to the idea so long as Aventurine adheres by the rules they set. Three tries. Because Aventurine did say that three chips was all he needed- and Ratio's feelings get lost in the wager.

But What If Something Happens?

OMEGAVERSE: One of the final chapters of But What if Something Happens where we get closure about Kaeya's sexual assault, the uncertain future of his duties, and reconcile lost dreams with new ones. The boys finally, after all this time, are going to get engaged.

We Were Never That (Simple)

My KaeluckKae Bible. This fic is planned to be the longest I have EVER written and will surpass Gravity of Words in length. Start to finish from the day the boys met at the tender age of 7-8 to current day and beyond, where the future is uncertain but the dawn always rises after dark. Will address all of my existing headcanons, analysis, character study, and more.

How do you like your eggs?

EGGPREG: Building off my hc that Neuv's draconic traits are like a Leafy Sea Dragon (seahorse) where he mistakenly believes that Wriothesley, with his penis, is a female (and it's an ovipositor). So when mating season comes, he is so ready! He is ready to accept those eggs! Put them in darling- and Wrio having to break it to him in utter confusion that he cannot, in fact, lay eggs. He's DEVASTED. It rains like 2 weeks and Wrio is at a loss at what to do- so he procures a fancy ovipositor toy and some jelly eggs. He does not think about the fact that jelly is mostly WATER and this is the HYDRO SOVERIGN- so Neuv gets his eggs in the end.

Dream Within a Dream

OMEGAVERSE + MPREG: What happens if you're pregnant and enter the dreamscape for an extended time? Aventurine begins to see a small glimmer of light following him around. A friendly little... something that becomes very attached to him. It keeps him company through all of Penacony- like a pet. It soothes his instincts, and he doesn't understand why... and why is Ratio so protective of it?

TLDR: The little buddy that follows aventurine around in the dreamscape, is actually his unborn child's dreams and both of its parents are stupid.

Heat of a Moment

Omegaverse (Possibly implied Mpreg or at least breeding kink) studding fic where the Avgin have secondary genders. Ratio is what they'd consider a "beta" but due to evolutionary needs, that can be fixed with a little effort while Aventurine is in heat. So this "omega" gets right to work. If he tells Ratio what he's doing is another gamble, another risk, and he aims to win. Currently considered a oneshot, may be 2-3 chapters depending how into it I get.
