D.C. Environmental Film Festival	The Environmental Film Festival in the Nation's Capital (DCEFF) is the world's premier showcase of environmentally themed films. Since 1993, our mission has been to celebrate Earth and inspire understanding and stewardship of the environment through the power of film.		here	May require access to paid streaming platforms like Netflix, Hulu, etc.
Our Planet	Unlike the BBC's beloved Planet Earth and Blue Planet series, Our Planet focuses directly on how each ecosystem featured is currently being threatened by climate change.	Yes	6+	Netflix
A Plastic Ocean	A Plastic Ocean is a documentary uncovering the nasty truth about our disposable lifestyle. Single-use plastic and similar products are overrunning our oceans and waterways, wreaking havoc on the natural ecosystems and marine life therein. A Plastic Ocean explores the deep blue depths while showing the shocking quantity of plastic pollution present in our oceans.			Netflix
Night on Earth	Narrated by award-winning actress Samira Wiley of Orange is the New Black, Night on Earth gives the audience an inside look at the rarely seen nocturnal world of wildlife. Featuring six episodes shot using new technology, this Netflix documentary features never-before-seen behavior from animals all around the world.	Yes	10+	Netflix
Chasing Coral	Pollution is on the rise, and among the many eco-systems being negatively impacted by wasteful practices are coral reefs. Coral is now disappearing at an unprecedented rate, one not seen before in recorded human history. Chasing Coral is the exciting, and sometimes dangerous, journey of a number of marine researchers hunting down the last remaining patches of coral.	Yes	9+	Netflix
Earth's Natural Wonders	From PBS comes a show about living to the extreme. No, we don't mean this is a documentary about pro-skateboarders or people with tons of face tattoos, Earth's Natural Wonders is all about people living in some of the world's most extreme conditions. Humans have always adapted to their environment, but for many of us, living in some of these extreme climates would seem impossible.			Netflix
Mission Blue	Like A Plastic Ocean, Mission Blue focuses on the health of our oceans and the threats impacting them. Follow the intoxicatingly enthusiastic Sylvia Earle, an oceanographer with a passion for environmentalism and education.			Netflix
Sustainable	When Marty Travis, a 7th generation farmer, begins to see his community disappear and neighboring land be bought out by big agribusinesses, he decides to take a stand to fight for the future of his son, a possible 8th generation farmer. Featuring celebrity chef Rick Bayless, Sustainable covers the economic and environmental impacts of our current agricultural practices.			Netflix
Islands of the Future	As gas prices rise, natural resources steadily become non-existent, and projections for future life on Earth become bleaker, Islands of the Future focuses on several tiny islands off mainland Europe working to create a change for the future.			Netflix
National Parks Adventure	Narrated by Robert Redford, National Parks Adventure is a cozy nature doc that shares the incredible splendor of US national parks. Traveling around the country to some of the nation's most stunning natural landmarks, National Parks Adventure highlights both the beauty of these protected areas and the importance of keeping them intact and protected.	Yes	6+	Netflix
Before the Flood	Actor and Earth Alliance co-founder Leonardo DiCaprio teams up with National Geographic to sound the alarm on climate change, with moving accounts of the rising sea levels, deforestation and other destruction that humans have wrought. The film arms viewers with solutions, from reducing meat consumption to voting for leaders who will fight for our future.	Yes	10+	Amazon, Netflix, Google Play, Youtube
Years of Living Dangerously	In this Emmy-winning series, hailed as "the most important television series ever made," journalists and celebrities such as Harrison Ford, Don Cheadle, Jessica Alba and Thomas Friedman travel the world to interview experts on the climate crisis as well as the everyday people affected by it.	Yes	13+	Amazon, Disney+
Tomorrow	Some environmental documentaries are heavy on problems and light on solutions, but not Tomorrow. With its upbeat, globetrotting search for everyday sustainability innovators, this French film is a refreshingly hopeful watch.	Yes	10+	here Amazon, Youtube, Google Play
The Lorax	In this movie adaptation of the classic children's book The Lorax, by Dr. Seuss, the prose and animation are whimsical but the message is serious: We must protect our environment against the effects of mindless consumerism.	Yes	5+	here Youtube
