The List

This list was compiled from a tweet by Duende District, a Latinx-owned bookstore in Washington, D.C. and Albuquerque, NM. The tweet provided the names of many Black-owned bookstores, and the aim of this list is to provide direct links to the stores' websites and/or social media accounts so you can support them. You can find the original tweet here: <https://twitter.com/duendedistrict/status/1267848236665942017>

The Author

My name is Dan, and I am a white writer doing what I can to amplify Black-owned bookstores. If you would like to add another store to the list, make a correction, or provide missing information, please email me at drbwriter \(at\) gmail \(dot\) com. I would also like to offer an open invite for any Black writer, bookstore owner, publisher, et al. who might want to take over administering the list. I am happy to continue maintaining it but stake no ownership to it -- the ultimate goal is to amplify Black businesses and voices.
