Master So'N'So	Safeword Class that wasn't the low cut blouse class	Glass Room	4/20/2019	5:30 PM	6:45 PM	So due to a glitch in the system (or well...chris's fault), the class The Low Cut Blouse class had a description for a safeword class. Several people were interested in this class. Master So'N'So is offering a class to discuss safeword, how to use them and all things related. So join him in the glass room for a discussion about safe words. The wonders of con can make great things happen. The previous safewords class description: After a discussion about safewords &amp; their usage, we will do some different exercises to practice actually using safewords and making sure that both tops &amp; bottoms are proficient in communicating safewords AND what to do if a safeword is used. I actually developed this type of training to help submissive playmates who had trouble using their safewords be more comfortable speaking up and decided to apply the same exercises in a group setting to normalize their usage!
