

Description of each week sailing summer 2018 with 2 Sofias
Month	Calendar week	Start harbour	harbor in between	End Harbour	ca total distance SM	Comments, extra info	More links
June (can be quite cold especially during the night and the water is still cold, but such long days)	23	Bullnadö		Trosa	90	Great week to experience the Stockholm archipelagos, good for experienced or less experienced sailors or just testers, since waves in between the islands stay moderate. Eastcoast archipelago sailing at least 3-4 natural harbours ending up at the very pretty town Trosa, which can be reached within an hour by train from Stockholm.
	24	Trosa	Arkesund Gästhamn Mem Berg Borensult	Vadstena; Vättern	archipelagos &	Good week for families or sailing testers, since a lot in the canal and only 3 days in the archipelagos at beginning of week. Eastcoast archipelago sailing at least 1 natural harbour; at Mem Göta canal starts, Vadstena can be reached by train and bus from Stockholm in 3,5h. Vättern is about 3.5 times the size of Bodensee.	Göta kanal
	25	Vadstena; Vättern	Karlsborg Töreboda Mariestad	Läckö slott, Vänern	canal & lake sailing	Good week for families or sailing testers, week starts with 2 longer days of sailing on the lake of Vättern; Göta canal for 2 day with docks; most motoring at slow pace; week ends with sailing again on Vänern to celebrate midsommar on Friday from lunch till midnight; Ekernäs is one option, other midsommar destinations I am still checking on such as Läckö Slott. Vänern is 10 times the size of Bodensee.	Göta kanal Dalbergså Läckö Slott
	26	Läckö slott, Vänern		Marstrand		Good week for families or sailing testers, since days in the middle are in the canal and first days in the archipelagos of Vänern (Vänern is 10 times the size of Bodensee) at beginning of week and last day is at the coast in front of Göteborg. First days still in Vättern sailing & then it takes 14h to cross Trollhätte canal with 6 docks (1000SKE) to	Trollhätte kanal Reservation harbor Marstrand
July (is the warmest month in Sweden and everybody has off; of and on it rains, with summer storms)	27	Marstrand	Fjällbacka	Stömstad	90	Great week to experience the Westcoast archipelagos, good for experienced or less experienced sailors, since waves in between the islands stay moderate, but westcoast has the North Sea weather coming in, so it can get stormy. On the way north we will make a stop visiting relatives at their Sommarhus Margaretha & Bertil 58°18'36.7"N 11°42'20.5"E	Reservation harbor Strömstad
	28	Stömstad	Lysekil	Göteborg	90	Great week to experience the Westcoast archipelagos, good for experienced or less experienced sailors, since waves in between the islands stay moderate, but westcoast has the North Sea weather coming in, so it can get stormy. On the way south we will make a stop visiting relatives at their Sommarhus Margaretha & Bertil 58°18'36.7"N 11°42'20.5"E	Reservation harbor Göteborg
	29	Göteborg		Helsingborg	110	Great week to experience some of the Westcoast archipelagos with moderate waves in between the islands. The second part of the week is southern Sweden sailing between Denmark / Sweden with much open water that can get bumpy with waves depending on wind conditions, but also calm sea can happen, with the water looking like a mirror. You should be either an experienced or less experienced sailor willing to be on open waters with the possibility of bigger waves.	Reservation harbor Helsingborg
		Helsingborg	Ystad	Simrishamn	150	Perhaps visit Copenhagen? Longer distances sailing this week, at least 200 SM even nightsailing possible. If the crew wants we can	Harbor Copenhagen

			Bornholm			least 200 SW even nightsailing possible. If the crew wants we can even go as far as Bornholm, that belongs to Denmark. Or make a stop in Ystad which is the city of inspector Kurt Wallander one of Swedens most successful mystery novels characters. Sothern Sweden sailing between Denmark / Sweden with much open water that can get bumpy with waves depending on wind conditions, but also clam see can happen, with the water looking like a mirror. You should be eithr an experienced or less experienced sailor willing to be on open waters with the possiblity of bigger waves.	Reservation harbor Simrishamn

	31	Simrishamn	Åhus	Karlskrona	95	This week starts with more open waters until we pass Åhus after Sofia's birthday Monday, when we arrive in Åhus so that my sister and mum can join us to celebrate. After that the most sothern archipelagos of Sweden start and the waves stay more moderate between the islands. This week is great for all kind of experienced sailors to beginners, but could have bigger waves at the beginning of the week.	Åhus gästhamn
August (could be extremely hot or moderate, waether and winds become stronger, nights are longer)	32	Karlskrona	Kalmar	Oskarshamn	105	Great week to experience the sothern east coast archipelagos, good for experienced or less experienced sailors or just testers, since waves in between the islands stay moderate. Karlskrona was founded 1680 when Karl XI (king of Sweden) decided to establish the country's new naval base	Gästhamn Oskarshamn
	33	Oskarshamn		Uttervik Camilla	100	Great week to experience the east coast archipelagos, good for experienced or less experienced sailors or just testers, since waves in between the islands stay moderate. We probably end the week with kräftskiva Friday evening when arriving at my friends summer house; would be cool if next crew also joined one evening erlier; have to ask Camilla how many can sleep in her summer house.
	34	Uttervik Camilla	Små Dalarö Nynäshamn	Saltsjöbaden	110	Great week to experience the sothern Stockholm archipelagos, good for experienced or less experienced sailors or just testers, since waves in between the islands stay moderate. August could be windy to stormy, but I have over the years also had 30° and no wind in August. Saltsjöbaden has a subway connection to Stockholm directly from the harbor. Depending how the forcast is for the week and if sailing becomes to bumpy there are numeous altenatives for things to do such as visiting Sofias relatives in Stockholm.	Gästhamn Nynäshamn
	35	Saltsjöbaden	Möja?	Bullnadö	90	Great week to experience the Stockholm archipelagos, good for experienced or less experienced sailors or just testers, since waves in between the islands stay moderate. August could be windy to stormy, but I have over the years also had 30° and no wind in August. Perhaps Nassa skärgård? Visit Stockholm by subway?
